Drug dealer found guilty of assault to commit mansalughter

Tuesday morning, after a three day trial, Oscar Alphonzo, formerly of, Wilton Drive, Wilmington was found guilty by a 12-man jury at Middlesex Superior Court of assault to commit manslaughter, two counts; and assault and battery by means of a dangerous weapon. Sentencing was delayed until March 16.

Three weeks ago Alphonzo plead guilty to a charge of trafficking in cocaine and received an eight to 10 year sentence to Walpole State prison. Asst. Dist. Attorney Anthony Pelusi who handled both phases of the case indicated that he would ask the court for a seven to 10 year sentence to be served after Alphonzo completed the minimum sentence on the drug conviction.

The case stems from the serving of a search warrant on the Wilton Drive address in November, 1981 after an investigation by Wilmington and state police officers. A state police narcotics officer was shot by Alphonzo at the outset of the search, and several shots were exchanged before Alphonzo surrendered. A large quantity of drugs, including nearly five pounds of cocaine, was found at the scene. The investigation was headed by Chief Stewart.

Alphonzo was held in $1 million bail, which he was never able to post. He has been held at the Billerica House of Correction since his arrest. Alphonzo is a native of Columbia, and had been in Wilmington less than a year at the time of his arrest.

One new candidate as nominations close

School committee candidates in Wilmington have a contest, due to the entry of a third candidate in a race for two seats in the town's April 16 election. Mary Deislinger, formerly chairman of the Wilmington Finance Committee, announced her candidacy this week.

With the deadline for taking out nomination papers at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday, no other candidates are expected to come forth. The filing deadline is Friday.

The races for the board of selectman and school committee are both three-way races for two seats. Incumbent selectmen Dan Ballou and John Imbimbo face challenger Robert Doucette. In the school committee race, incumbent John Brooks is on the ballot with Anthony Accardi, Jr. and Mrs. Deislinger.

A four-way race is set for the Wilmington Housing Authority seat now held by WHA Chairman George Hooper. Hooper, seeking re-election, is challenged by Dan Gillis, Wilson Belbin and Elmer Parker.

The youngest candidate on the ballot is running unopposed. Lawrence Juergens, 19, who graduated from Shawsheen Tech last year, is seeking a position on the regional school committee for that institution. The seat is presently held by Lawrence Flaherty, who has indicated he will not run. Flaherty has been Juergens' Boy Scout leader for many years.

Moderator Michael Caira is also running unopposed. as is Wilmington Redevelopment Authority member Sid Kaizer.

Persons intending to vote in the April 16 election must register to vote by March 25.

Sowyrda appointed deputy fire chief

Four promotions have been announced in the Wilmington Fire Department, giving the department a dramatic change in mid-level command.

Named as deputy chief is Walter Sowyrda of Davis Road. Three new lieutenants are Joseph Lundegren, Edward Bradbury of Clark Street and Daniel Stewart of Middlesex Avenue. Stewart's appointment is temporary, pending the retirement of Lt. Sil Blonigen, who has been on sick leave.

The deputy chief position was opened by the promotion last year of Dan Wandell to chief. The lieutenants' positions opened up due to the retirement of Charles Webster and Robert Woods. Blonigen's retirement and that of Lt. Billy Nee, expected in November, will give the department a completely new complement of lieutenants. Nee has been serving as acting deputy, and will return to his lieutenant's post when the promotions take effect next week.

Two openings for privates presently exist on the department. Six men were appointed to the department in late 1982. They are Dan Hurley, John McDonough, Richard McLellan, Joseph McMahon, Paul Welch and Robert Woods. The latter is the son of the recently retired lieutenant of the same name.

How much state aid?

Wilmington's three legislators met with selectmen Monday night, to discuss the possibilities for additional state aid.

Reps. James Miceli and Michael Barrett and Sen. Robert Buell discussed the probable level of local aid that Governor Dukakis will propose for the coming fiscal year, along with various plans which have been proposed for distribution.

Dukakis is expected to propose an additional $150 million for aid to cities and towns. Both state and local budgets are in a crunch, with local governments now planning finances for the third year of Prop. 2½.

"There is going to be a battle this year, and a tumultous one," said Barrett. "In the third year of Prop. 2½, the chickens are coming home to roost."

Barrett said that the governor is facing a $350 million budget gap in the current fiscal year, and that he (Dukakis) wanted to raise cigarette and gas taxes.

Barrett said that the local aid question would be the small towns versus the cities."

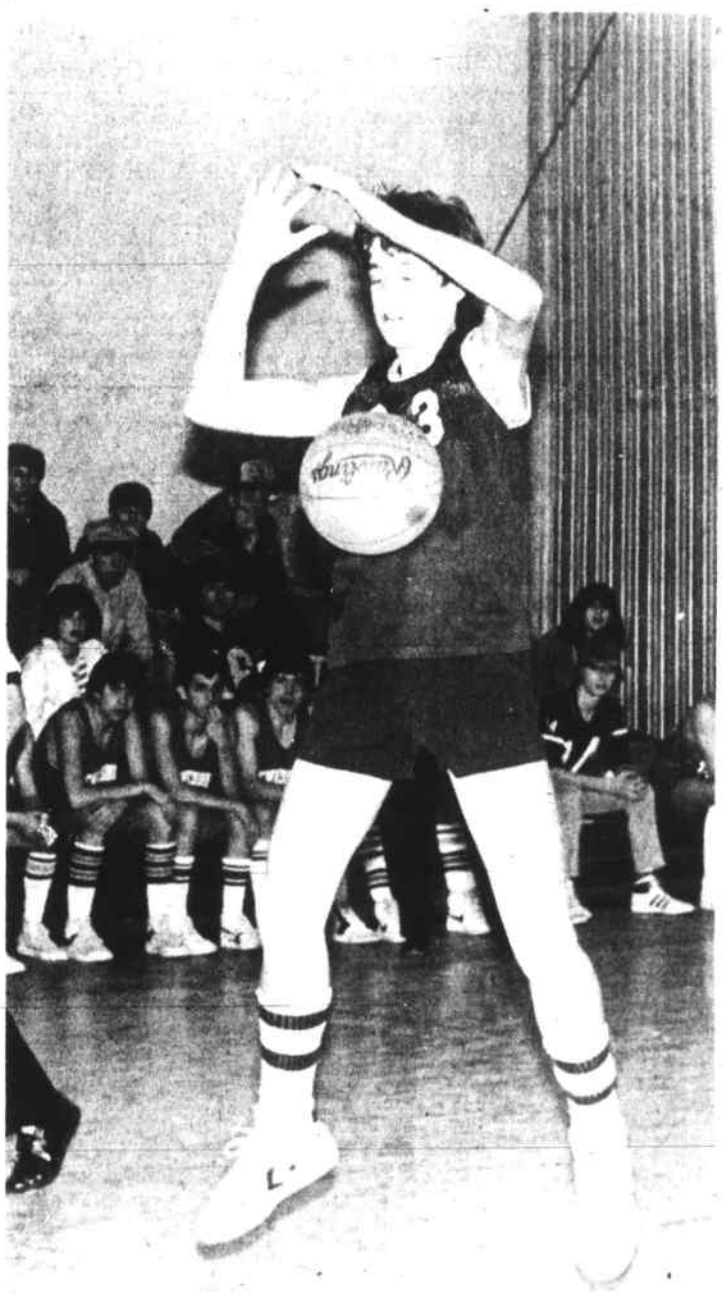

"I was hoping to bring my Parker Brothers Monopoly game to hand out all the money we were going to give you," quipped Sen Buell.

Barrett said that Dukakis was hoping to avoid the morass of a May or June announcement. Buell, however, said that with the anticipated problems, the local aid announcement would not be early.

The Wilmington Town Meeting is scheduled for April 12, with a special town meeting likely to vote the distribution of the town's share of additional state aid.

The legislators spoke of moves being made to "earmark" local aid funds, so that a particular portion of the aid would have to be spent for education, or other specified areas.Such proposals are being opposed by the Mass. Municipal Association (MMA), along with selectmen and finance committees.

A formula proposed by the MMA would distribute the state aid on a $10 per capita basis, with a lottery formula for the remaining money. Also, the first $46 million would be used for 11 cities and towns that are really struggling with their budgets.

Spotlighters continue rebuilding effort

"Nobody wants me down like I wants me up! Up where the people are, up where the talking is, up where the joke's going on!"

The words belong to the leading character in the musical The Unsinkable Molly Brown; the determination behind them, to the Wilmington Spotlighters community theatre. Unlike Molly, the Spotlighters are not alone in their struggle to survive. There are literally hundreds of area residents, businesses and theatre colleagues who want them "up" again, and who demonstrated their enthusiastic support of the group at the February 6 Show of Shows benefit for the Spotlighters, held at the Shriners' Auditorium in Wilmington.

The Spotlighters, who were about to launch a project to renovate the Mildred Rogers School in Wilmington into a performance facility - community arts center, were dealt a devastating blow when a November arson fire destroyed their entire inventory of costumes, sets and props and caused approximately $20,000 damage to the building itself.

"It was an incredible setback, something we never dreamed could happen to us, said Spotlighter President Celia Bartolotti. "We were making headway in the initial stages of the renovation, we had relative financial stability and could manage a full production schedule in addition to the building plans. After a lot of years of hard work, everything finally seemed to be going right," Bartolotti said. "And then, we had the fire and it all just went up in smoke. Literally."

Now, because of the success of the February 6 benefit, the theatre group has a chance to start over.

"We're really back to step one," said Bartolotti, "but the encouragement and support we've received from the community has been so tremendous, that we're determined to move forward."

There is quite a task facing the Spotlighters in the months ahead before they can resume a full production schedule. First, the Mildred Rogers School has to be restored to the point where it can once again serve as a rehearsal - storage space for the group. According to Bartolotti, that means the inventory room where the fire did the most damage will have to be completely gutted and rebuilt, the roof will have to be replaced, a new heating system installed and the destroyed electrical system rewired. They also have to start to rebuild their inventory of tools, materials, costumes and props.

"It means a lot of money, a lot of hard work, and a lot of help from our friends and the community," Bartolotti explained.

Even though the Spotlighters' major efforts will be in getting the Mildred Rogers School back into shape by the fall, their touring dinner theatre company will still perform, beginning in early May. In the past, the popular touring company, composed of approximately 20 singers - dancers who perform selections from Broadway musicals in a review format, has entertained a variety of major corporations, civic groups, fraternal organizations and performed for private parties and at the Bull Run Restaurant in Shirley.

"In addition to our fund raising efforts," Bartolotti explained, "the touring company will be our primary source of revenue for all the work that needs to be done. We'll be auditioning for performers for the company in mid-March. Right now, we're trying to line up advanced bookings for the months of May through September

Like the unsinkable Molly Brown, the Spotlighters are resilient, and, with the continued support of the community, they'll be "up" again.

Volunteers needed

Volunteers are needed for the Visiting Nurse Association of Middlesex East's Early Intervention Program Developmental School held at the Congregational Church, Reading.

Required are two people who have had experience with children — especially with special needs children. These rewarding volunteer opportunities are especially suitable for mothers who have grown children or for retired teachers.

Committment for one post is two mornings a week from 9 to 11 working with younger children. For the second, it is three afternoons with the older group meeting from 12:15 to 2:45.

The volunteers will work with the Early Childhood Special Educator, Teacher, and Assistant Teacher with individual programs designed to meet the children's special needs.

Interested candidates should call Joan Connuck at 438-3770 or write to her at the Visiting Nurse Association of Middlesex - East, 136 Elm St., Stoneham, Ma 02180.

Children from Melrose, Wakefield, Reading, North Reading, Wilmington, Wakefield, and Woburn (birth to age three) who are developmentally delayed are eligible for the program which is offered without charge to the families.

New venture for Charles River

A new diagnostic and testing service provided by Wilmington - based Charles River Biotechnical Services (CRBS) may change the way in which research is conducted, presented and interpreted. The outcome of any experimental project depends on the genetic integrity and quality of the animals involved, particularly when the research involves inbred animals. Wilmington based Charles River Breeding Laboratories, Inc., the world's largest breeder of specially bred rats, mice, guinea pigs and primates for laboratory research, has recently embarked on a new commercial venture, which offers the technology to monitor specialized strains of mice for their genetic purity and provide complete animal health diagnostic serivces to the biomedical community.

Charles River Breeding Laboratories has always had a strong in-house laboratory animal quality monitoring system for over 20 years. As a result of this experience, Charles River has formed Charles River Biotechnical Services, Inc. (CRBS), a full-service laboratory animal health diagnostic and genetic monitoring firm.

In August of 1982 Charles River moved its in-house diagnostic testing laboratories into a new 10,000 square foot facility at their Wilmington headquarters. This laboratory facility reinforces Charles River's commitment to leadership in the field of quality assurance by providing the equipment and optimal space to insure the qualify of Charles River animals and diagnostic capabilities. In addition, the new laboratory also houses a data management system designed especially to store detailed biological data on the various species of Charles River's animals, and this information is available to customers to enhance their own research efforts.

Charles River Biotechnical Services, Inc. made its entry into the commercial testing service called serilogic testing, which helps scientists detect viruses common to laboratory rodents. Since opening the new subsidiary in October 1982, CRB's customer base has gradually expanded as reports spread of the quality and promptness of their work. Recently, CRBS has expanded its services to include the genetic monitoring of mice and services for the monitoring of rats will be available soon. CRBS guarantees results will be in the mail within 10 working days from receipt of sample. Priority service provides a phone report within five working days of receipt.

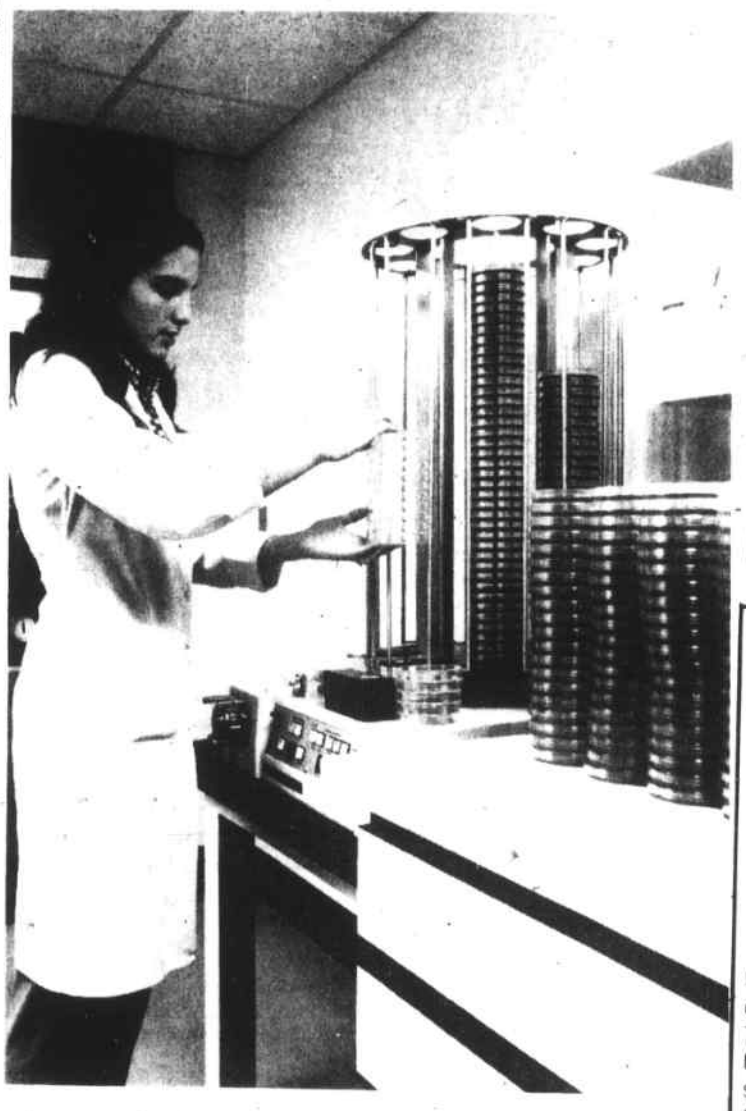

CRBS is headed by Melvin W. Balk, D.V.M., M.S. who is also corporate director of scientific activities at the parent company. Dr. Balk received his Doctorate of Veterinary Medicine from the University of Illinois in 1969 and completed post doctoral training in Laboratory Animal Medicine at Pennsylvania State University.

According to Dr. Balk, CRBS fulfills a need in the research community by providing prompt and reliable service. CRBS has the additional advantage of working with large commercial animal populations. This permits them a "window" on the entire clinical picture of animal health and allows them the ability to help evaluate and interpret diagnostic results. CRBS has a technical support staff of 26 degreed laboratory technicians who perform more than 350,000 tests annually.

Charles River's genetic monitoring program was first conceived in March, 1981 and developed during that year. In order to provide customers with the newest technology, Charles River held a conference in Boston in which geneticists with various areas of expertise were invited to share their state-of-the-art techniques in genetic monitoring. As with the health monitoring program, Charles River has developed significant experience and expertise by the genetic monitoring of their own commercially-produced laboratory animals.

Services conducted by CRBS also provide valuable and necessary documentation for protocols requiring a permanent record of animal quality at the beginning of a study. This service offers scientists information concerning their animals prior to release from quarantine and eliminates unnecessary delays at the initiation of a study.

Exactly how will this testing of research animals affect the way that research is presented or interpreted? For one thing, it will more thoroughly describe methods and materials, thus enhancing the accuracy and interpretation of research results. Scientists will also have a more solid basis for comparing results of research. In the words of Dr. Balk, "the more thoroughly you describe the research animal, the more information you can get from it."

An automatic plate pourer is used to develop 350,000 microbiological cultures for Charles River Biotechnical Services, Inc. Such techniques are necessary for the monitoring of isolators and detecting the presence of bacteria in clinical conditions.

Histotechnician prepares slides in CRB's Histology Lab used for pathologists' microscopic examination of tissue.

Question:

Should the 9th grade be re-located to Tewksbury Memorial Senior High School as of September, 1983?

Answer:

Very definitely. I have never taught at a high school that did not have the a 9th - 12th grade structure. I find the 9th grade an extreemely good age group to go through the transition from junior high school to senior high school.

A strong 9th grade academic schedule supported by constant orientation to the school and its regulations in conjunction with a solid program of guidance help these 9th graders to become very responsible 10th, 11th and 12th graders as they advance through their high school careers.

Add to this philosophy the fact that more students can benefit from the tremendous new facilities of the high school addition and I say yes emphatically. The 9th grade should be relocated to Tewksbury Memorial Senior High School in September, 1983.

"ACTION NOT ARGUMENT"

In December, considerable interest was generated when a task force of concerned citizens interviewed over 700 families during a survey to determine Tewksbury's major problems as the people see them.

In mid Februrary, the task force conducted a follow-up survey to confirm our single most urgent problem. Out of 188 families selected at random in all sections of Tewksbury 82.2% named the qualtity, quantity and distribution of WATER as their main concern.

THE GIRARD OBJECTIVE!

1. To eliminate discolored strong scented water. We must pinpoint areas in our distribution system where these problems originate. We must devise a system with sufficient flushing capabilities to supply clean, pure water to all of Tewksbury.
2. We must guarantee a supply of water which will meet all long range projections. I will work toward achieving this goal, also viable alternatives must be designed if our initial program cannot be completed.
3. The final stage is to implement a series of safeguards to assure that our water meets or exceeds rigid health standards.

TOGETHER WE CAN WIN!

The Casket Lady — Part XXVIII

How to heft a heavy coffin?

©Copyright 1983
by Capt. Larz Neilson

Ed Nichols, funeral director, had his problems on May 22, 1900.

He was in charge of the funeral of France Hiller. The casket was very large, and estimated to weigh several tons. The inner casket, in which the body would be placed, weighed, it was said, 700 pounds. It would take some husky men, to be the pall bearers.

Then Henry Hiller second, France's husband, had to go and issue an order to bar Schamiel and Polly McIntosh from the funeral. Schamiel was the big (6 ft. 3 inches) blacksmith who had befriended Henry when he was Pierre Surrette. There had been English lessons, Sunday mornings, in Schamiel's blacksmith shop.

Polly, as she was known (her name was Laura) was a neice of France. She had lived in the Hiller home for over twenty years. To bar her presence was awkward,

It was a situation which called for diplomacy on the part of Ed Nichols. Yes, Polly had referred to Henry second as 'that Frenchman'. Yes, she was about to contest the will of France Hiller, according to stories in the Boston papers.

But why make things more difficult, just before the funeral?

Ed succeeded. He convinced Henry that he should remain silent, and not disturb the decorum of the funeral. Nothing was said about this on Tuesday evening, the day before the funeral.

The newspapers were watching closely, and so was just about every person in the neighborhood. When Schamiel and Polly went into the Hiller home, on Wednesday, they created a mild sensation. It was reported in many papers.

Then there was the matter of naming pall bearers. Of course they had to be friends of France. And, of course, they had to have strength, to do the job.

Ed named Thomas and Peter McMahon, brothers. He named William H. Carter, the man who was known as Bill Hen II, because there was another man with the same name. Bill Hen was a road commissioner, who lived on Shawsheen Avenue, near Bridge Lane.

The funeral procession of France Hiller, showing the pall bearers beside the cataflaque, which carried the casket. Below is a sketch made in the cemetery. The hill shown is the Hiller tomb, but the proportions are not accurate. The sketch probably was not drawn on site. From the Boston Post, May 24, 1900.

Howard Horton was named, a well known carpenter, born in Wisconsin. There was Frank Boynton and Stephen Buck, both of old Wilmington families. There was Charles Moulton, Charles Carter, George Alden and W. S. J. Marsh.

Marsh was a newcomer to Wilmington, a real estate man. His name was to be prominent for a few years, and then he left for other places.

On Tuesday, the day before the funeral, the remains of France Hiller lay in state, in her home. Her body was on the ground floor. Thousands of people filed through the house, to view the remains.

France was in her famous 'inner' casket. She was wearing the highly embroidered gown which had been prepared many years before. On her feet were white satin slippers. The casket was surrounded with floral tributes.

and on the lawn, waiting for their women and reading newspapers. There was plenty to talk about.

There was a lot in the papers about the wagon which would be the funeral car. It was a massive vehicle, the papers reported. It had been used in the funerals of important persons, one of whom was the late Governor Dingley of New Hampshire.

The papers called it a 'catafalque'. It was expected to arrive in Wilmington, from Boston, about 8:30 Wednesday morning. And, of course, there was the story of Schamiel and Polly McIntosh to be read. The papers called them Mr and Mrs L. R. McIntosh.

Over two thousand persons viewed the remains of France Hiller, on that Tuesday, in Wilmington. Next day the remains would be taken to St, Thomas Church, and then the final trip to the cemetery.

The most ornate was an arch of flowers from her husband, Henry second. Beneath the floral arch was a floral clock, with the hands stopped at 6:15. That was the time of her death. Beneath the clock was an inscription 'The sad hour'.

Extra street cars were running to Wilmington that day. Thousands of visitors were on the street, the lawn, and the porch.

Entry was through the side door. After having viewed the remains, the visitors went out the front door. Many women, it was recorded, went back to the side door, to make another trip.

There were reports of cameras being held up to the face of France Hiller. Women held their children close, to let them see the lady. One woman was detected as she produced a pair of scissors, and was about to clip off an embroidered daisy.

Men stood about in the street

Nutrition month

In recognition of National Nutrition Month in March, the Regional Health Center in Wilmington is sponsoring special programs and expanded nutrition counseling office hours.

Individual nutrition counseling office hours are held expanding into the evening. Also, computerized nutrition assessments with individual interpretations will be offered, by appointment only.

Those with questions and concerns about eating disorders, diets and vitamins can have questions answered by a nutritionist - registered dietitian.

Many insurance companies cover nutrition office visits, especially when the visit is associated with a medical problem such as anemia, high blood pressure or diabetes.

A program on "Eating Disorders: Understanding Anorexia Nervosa, Bulimia and Compulsive Overeating" will be held on Thursday, March 10 at 7:30 p.m. featuring John H. Heckler, Ph.D., psychologist; David S. Salomon, M.D., adolescent medicine specialist and Elvira Q. Johnson, R.D., M.S., nutrition services coordinator.

Anorexia is the medical and psychological condition of self-starvation that has been receiving much attention in the media lately. Singer Karen Carpenter's death is linked to the disorder and Cherry Boone O'Neill, daughter of singer Pat Boone, has recovered from the eating disorder.

There is treatment available for anorexics and bulimics, those who suffer from binge-purge-vomit syndrom. According to an Anorexia Aid Society official, these disorders are "ways for females (predominatly) to handle an apparently inherent obsession with food and shape."

Recent reports indicate about 28,000 women between the ages of 12 and 25 suffer from anorexia in the United States. Death may come from this form of malnourishment; or lead to irregular heartbeats, which can lead to heart failure. These victims ar eoften depressed and, therefore are more prone to suicide.

The Eating Disorder program is free and open to the public.

A special evening "Feeding Your Child" course will be held on Monday, March 28 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. for working parents and child care providers of one to five-year-olds.

Marilyn Psierb, R.D., M.S., nutritionist, will discuss problems of the fussy eater (preschoolers) and nutrition for the young school-age child, focusing on the importance of eating a variety of foods.

There is a $4 fee for this program, including materials and pre-registration is required.

On Wednesdays, March 16 and 23, a two-part workshop on "Youth Sports: A Workshop for Coaches and Parents" will be held. Ginny C. Janeiro, registered physical therapist and certified athletic trainer, will discuss "Conditioning and Preventing Athletic Injuries;" and Elvira Q. Johnson will speak on "Eat to Win: Nutrition for Young Athletes."

Handouts will be given out at both sessions and a question and answer period will follow both lectures.

These programs will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. and pre-registration is required by calling 657-3910, ext 567.

Tewksbury school board tells administration to cut budget

The Tewksbury School Committee last Wednesday narrowly backed a proposal of Louis Carciofi to reverse direction on the budget setting process for fiscal 1984. Fellow members Carol Wareing and Tom Cooke sided with Carciofi's plan to instruct the administration to hold the budget increase to 2½ over last year's figure by trimming some $368,519 from their $11,572,658 fiscal 1984 budget request and present it back to the committee on March 9.

Committee members Jim Sullivan and Sonja Cuneo were opposed to the plan.

The committee also voted last week to conduct a school budget public hearing in the Dewing School on March 23 at 8:00 p.m. and will consider holding another hearing at a later date.

Carciofi feels that the administration knows the areas that can be cut without harming the overall system and said he felt there are certain budget areas that contain requests "in excess of what there should be."

He added that the administration knows where those areas are and the school committee can only "guess" where they are. He said he didn't want to damage a program by guessing it could withstand a cut.

He said that since the administration compiles the budget requests from all school departments and decides how much of those requests will be included in their proposal, he feels the administration has "a better idea of where we can cut and still be able to operate."

He said that instead of the committee cutting from a budget figure the administration feels they need, the committee will be telling the administration what they can have and allow them to tailor the programs into that figure.

Chairman Carol Wareing agreed with Carciofi's intent and proposed that the administration come back at the next meeting with a line-by-line breakdown of what the new budget will look like. "I'm afraid they'll come back with some sort of a narrative," she said.

The committee used the figure granted to the schools at the annual town meeting last year instead of the budget that had been trimmed by $273,300 in a special town meeting as a base for their 2½ percent increase. The theory behind that move is apparently due to the staffing of the schools and the salary figures required to keep that staff on. last year the committee came up with the $273,300 by trimming their salary account and came away unhurt by the reduction.

That was basically due to the difference between the salary for staff on the payroll last year and the salary for the senior staff whose positions had to be left open. Several higher paid teachers went on leave or were out sick for extended periods of time last year, which allowed the committee to save some money by bringing in lower paid teachers to fill in.

Also helping the schools come away unhurt by the $273,300 cut was the difference in funds granted by town meeting to cover anticipated salary raises and the actual raises.

However, to be on the safe side this year, the committee will figure that all the higher paid staff will be coming back and will budget for that.

If the committee had based their 2½ percent increase on the revoted budget figure of $10,637,540, the cut would amount to $648,651.

The committee on February 16 had "flagged" some $400,000 from several budget areas for possible cuts and Carciofi asked the administration to take those "flagged" areas into consideration when making their new budget. He also said the new budget setting should not be limited to decisions of just the central office. He suggested that department heads be contacted to ascertain where they feel cuts can be made in their particular budgets.

"It's better that we do this work now than procrastinate and do it later," Carciofi said.

Despite Carciofi's remarks that the budget is "top heavy" in several areas, Superintendent of Business John Ryan said that the budget contains "very fixed costs" that the committee is "stuck with."

Sullivan said it was "completely irresponsible for the committee to do this." He said it was too early in the budget process to cut and added that the committee has not been asked to keep their increase down to 2½ percent over last year.

Sullivan argued that the town does not know how much it can raise in taxes or get returned to it from state reimbursements on the so-called "Cherry Sheet' for fiscal 1984.

He said that the same type of budget reduction pressure of two years ago forced the committee to lose several staff members. He and Cuneo were on a budget sub-committee two years ago and had employed use of the zero based budget concept to prepare a spending plan to be implemented in the first year under Proposition 2½. He said that the plan was rejected by the full committee and that the resultant budget forced the elimination of 104 staff positions.

"To jump the gun again this year, and go in with a figure that is too low, without knowing all the factors, we'll end up laying people off again," he claimed.

But, Carciofi said that the committee should be responsible to taxpayers and added that the school department should not request what they want, but only what is needed.

Wareing added that the committee should do its budget work in plenty of time to present a comprehensive spending plan to town meeting voters. She said that during the past few years the committee and the finance committee met prior to town meeting sessions to hash out final recommendations and get final kinks out of the budget.

She charged that "hashing out the budget with the finance committee five minutes before town meeting is irresponsible." She was apparently referring to last year's special joint session that concluded just minutes before the school budget went before the townspeople for action. That proposal included teacher salary increases that were granted in union contract talks that were also wrapped up shortly before that town meeting.

She said that the committee will find it increasingly difficult to defend "last minute" budget deals.

Sullivan, however, charged that Wareing was playing a "political game" by pressing for budget cuts in light of the upcoming town elections. Both Wareing and Sullivan are up for re-election to their posts.

"I also see a political game here. Some people just don't want to make any cuts," Wareing said in response.

As special requests from committee members, the administration will present a peek at what class sizes will look like with 20 less teachers and will look into the possibility of moving one of the junior high school assistant principals to the high school in conjunction with the move of the ninth grade there next September. Cueno requested the teacher outlook while Wareing requested the study of the assistant principal.

Cuneo's request, however, did not receive a very warm welcome from the committee.

Women's History Week at library

Women's history indicates that some women have worked through the ages, contributing to the economy whether they were paid for their work or not. As working family members, they worked in agricultural production on handicraft jobs. When the need and - or the opportunity arose, they worked away from home.

With 52.9 percent of women (16 and older) in the paid labor force today, many new and many historical issues related to women and work are of personal and public interest.

In recognition of this interest, Women's History Week, March 7 to March 12, will be observed at Wilmington Memorial Library by a focus on Women and Work. A booklist was prepared to highlight the resources available at the library on three major topics: "Choosing a Career," "Women's Two Roles; Home and Work," and "Career - Life Changes."

The booklist is available at the library and many of these books will be on display throughout the week.

Katherine McVicker in jazz concert

Katherine McVicker, a Boston based singer, will present a concert of jazz music on March 7 at 8:15 p.m. at the Berklee Performance Center, 130 Mass Ave., Boston. Katherine, a Wilmington native, presently works at Berklee College of Music in Boston. As a member of the administrative staff, she helps coordinate the college's Ensemble Program.

The concert scheduled for March 7 is entitled "Chase the Clouds Away." It will present a varied program featuring Katherine along with many Berklee faculty musicians and outstanding student players. The selections will include jazz and bop standards performed by ensembles ranging in size from piano trio to a 16 piece band. The title of the concert refers to a Chuck Mangione tune which will be one of the selections presented.

This is Katherine's second concert at Berklee College. Last October she presented a recital in one of the college's other halls. In addition to her own concerts, she has been an active participant in other concerts given at Berklee in both the Performance Center and in the recital halls.

Katherine attended Berklee from 1980 to 1981 as a voice principle majoring in professional music. She continues to study music privately and performs in the Boston area. Though she primarily considers herself to be a jazz singer, Katherine studies classical music and has done some singing in other styles as well. "Montage," Katherine's band, performs a variety of styles in both club settings and for private parties. They will be performing at the Wilmington Couples Club in April and again in June.

Girl Scouts earn faith medal

Twenty-five Girl Scouts in Wilmington have earned the highest award offered to Catholic Junior Girl Scouts, the "I Live My Faith" medal. Recipients of he medal were: Lauren Beals, Triana Blowers, Nicole Bouchie, Noel Bouchie, Sonya Budd, Denise Cunningham, Alison Curtin, Ellen DeMarco, Laura Desmond, Andrea Ducey, Melissa Farino, Mary Fisher, Lori-Ann Fuller, Jacqueline Gray, kendra Mar, Angela Martins, Lisa Mottolo, Jennifer O'Donnell, Nancy O'Leary, Kristin Palm, Brenda Savosik, Kellie Sullivan, Susan Sweet, Suzanne Walsh and Lori Wheeler.

Father Thomas Reynolds of St. Thomas of Villanova Church and Mrs. Rosemary DeMarco were advisors to the project.

The program consisted of 18 different projects in three areas: "Stretching, Seeking and Finding." The projects were action-oriented, but accompanied by reflection and sharing with parents, advisors and peers. The girls studied their families, their parishes, the sacraments, their community and their own feelings. They also each kept a diary of their work, in which they recorded ways that they "lived their faith" through service to others and to their community. The girls' final project was a celebration of the Eucharist on February 8 at St. Thomas Church with family members also present.

All 25 girls received their medals on March 6, Girl Scout Sunday, during the 9:30 Mass at St. Thomas Church.

Lawrence Juergens candidate for Tech school committee

Lawrence Juergens

Lawrence M. Juergens has announced his candidacy for election to the Shawsheen Regional Vocational - Technical School Committee for a term of three years. Juergens is a lifelong resident of Wilmington and lives at 74 Glen Rd.

Juergens attended Wilmington Public Schools and went on to graduate from Shawsheen Tech in 1982, where he majored in electrical. Juergens was very active in student government at Shawsheen and was elected vice president of the senior class.

"With budget cuts plaguing our school systems the ultimate group affected is the students. The bottom line is that great care should be taken to make sure the School Committee always tries to act with the students' best interest in mind," he said.

He added, "As a recent graduate of Shawsheen Tech I am aware of the problems facing today's youth and if elected on April 16 we can begin to take a closer look and start solving them together."

Juergens is a leader in local Boy Scout Troop 58 and recently earned Scouting's highest honor, the rank of Eagle Scout. He is also a member of the Billerica Civil Defense Organization and a patrolman in the Billerica Auxiliary Police Department.

Anthony Accardi seeks school committee seat

My name is Tony Accardi and I am pleased to announce my candidacy for the Wilmington School Committee. I perceive the duties of a school committee person primarily as a decision making position that must be responsive to the problems and concerns of Wilmington taxpayers.

Anthony Accardi, Jr.

With the passage of Proposition 2½ the day of the "big tax spender" is passed. The Wilmington school system is in great need of cost efficient spending. An effective school committee person must possess the qualifications to sift through a large number of high paying positions and contracts astutely eliminating costly ineffective spending. My ten years of educational experience give me the needed knowledge to bring quality education with fiscal responsibility to Wilmington. The days of "educaiton at any cost" are over. As a taxpayer I know this attitude is no longer possible.

I am currently finishing my tenth year in the field of education. My experience has included a tenure at Everett High School, Parlin Junior High School and Everett Vocational High School. I earned my master of arts in teaching degree at Salem State College. I have a bachelor of science degree with a major in education also from Salem State College where I graduated with honors. In addition I am an active member of the Wilmington Sons of Italy.

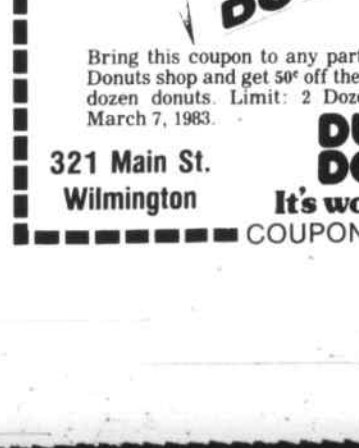

More importantly, my greatest qualification is my honest concern for the education of the children of Wilmington. I am the father of three children, one in the Woburn Street School and two pre-schoolers. The future of my children, like yours, is directly related to the future of the Wilmington school system. I am dedicated to working for the betterment of our school system. I demand, as all parents do, that my children are given the best possible education that can be made available to them.

Taxpayers and parents in Wilmington are crying out for responsive leadership on their school committee. I have the education and experience to provide this leadership. Send a message to the Wilmington School Committee that you want affordable quality education. Send Tony Accardi to the Wilmington School Committee on April 16.

Mary Deislinger is school committee candidate

Mary Deislinger has announced her candidacy for election to the Wilmington School Committee. Mrs. Deislinger has lived in Wilmington for 11 years. She and her husband Jack and their three children live at 20 Sheridan Road.

Mrs. Deislinger was a member of the Wilmington Finance Committee for three years, one as chairman of that committee. From 1974 to 1976 she served as clerk to the Wilmington Planning Board.

Mary Deislinger

During the last several years, Mrs. Deislinger's primary involvement has beenin the rearing of her children. Prior to that she was employed as an administrative assistant in the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

As a parent of school age children, Mary has a strong interest in the quality of educaiton in Wilmington. While she believes the quality of education in Wilmington to be good, she feels that it could be better. She has, through her own experiences and through talking with other parents, identified some specific areas that she feels need to be explored. Such areas include school outdoor play areas; bus discipline and safety; test scores; teacher morale; teacher evaluations and communication between parents, teachers, administrators and school committee members. These are some of the issues she plans to address throughout her campaign. These issues as well as her willingness to devote the required time and attention to the duties involved, have motivated her to seek election to the Wilmington School Committee.

Retire rich on someone else's money.

Ours. And Uncle Sam's.

If you have the money, a Massbank IRA is just about the best thing that's happened to the American taxpayer since the redcoats left town.

If you don't have the "lump sum" cash you need to open an IRA, we'd like to introduce you to the Massbank Systematic Investment Saving Program. It lets you use our money to put federal income tax deferments (Uncle Sam's money) to work for you, earning a tidy nestegg for your retirement.

Here's how it works.

If you qualify for credit with us, we'll loan you enough money to let you take the full $2,000* 1982 tax deferment available to you through an IRA savings program ...AND we'll loan you enough to start earning interest now on the maximum deferment available to you for 1983.

You can pay back the loan for both years on a systematic monthly installment schedule over 12 or 24 months. If you are in only an "average" tax bracket, your tax deferment savings for last year alone will easily exceed the cost of the loan for both years. In other words, you will already have made money by April 15.

But best of all, the money you borrow from us now stays in your Massbank IRA account, continuing to make money for you at top interest rates year after year...long after your initial start-up loan has been paid off.

If you start now, and stay with it through retirement, a Massbank IRA can indeed by the key to retiring rich while using as little of your own money as possible.

Unclaimed money list

State Treasurer Robert Q. Crane has released the names of 42,000 Massachusetts residents who are due more than $17,000,000 in abandoned accounts.

The largest single amount is due a Boston woman whose name appears on an account worth more than $150,000.

Under the state's unclaimed money law, bank accounts, insurance proceeds, uncashed gift certificates, payroll checks, customer overpayments and the like that have gone untouched for at least five years are deemed to be abandoned. All such accounts are to be reported to the treasurer who then attempts notification.

Crane noted one important aspect of the unclaimed money law requires that "until claimed, all funds are kept in the state's general fund where they are invested for the benefit of all residents and taxpayers in Massachusetts.

Tewksbury Garden Club to hear Charles Mello

The Tewksbury Garden Club is to spend an evening with Charles Mello, of 'Shear Sex' on Main Street, Tewksbury. The club will meet at the salon on March 9th.

Charles will discuss the latest in hair fashion and skin care. He has recently returned from a trip to Hawaii and California. The beautiful plants and arrangements at his office are also his creations.

Each club member may bring a guest. For information call 851-9660.

Ellen Roberts named student of the month

Ellen Roberts, daughter of Kenneth and Nita Roberts of 10 Lee St., Wilmington, has been selected as one of the February students of the month from Shawsheen Tech. This program, sponsored by the Billerica Lodge of Elks, seeks to honor students on the basis of character, leadership, services and scholastic achievement.

Ellen is a senior in the Health Technology Department and a proven asset according to her shop and related teachers. Outgoing, intelligent and well-mannered, February's senior of the month has been an honor roll student for her four years at the tech.

Ellen's activities include cheerleading for the football team, for three years; cheerleading for the basketball team for four years and its current cheerleading captain. She is also presently senior class officer, secretary to the class of 1983 and a member if VICA (Vocational Industrial Clubs of America), spring track grade 10, yearbook committee grades 11 and 12 and a member of the Shawsheen musical production of South Pacific.

She is presently in affiliation with the Regional Health Center in Wilmington. Her future plans include the continuance of her education in the health education field.

Tewksbury candidates' night March 10

A Candidate's Night for candidates seeking school committee seats will be held Thursday, March 10 at 7:30 p.m., at the Tewksbury Junior High School. The event is being sponsored by the Parents' Advisory Councils of the Tewksbury Public Schools and is specifically for those candidates seeking election to the office of the Tewksbury School Committee and the office of School Committee of the Shawsheen Vocational-Technical High School.

The four candidates appearing on this year's ballot for the Tewksbury School Committee are incumbents James Sullivan and Dr. Carol Wareing and challengers Mary Hallissey and Joseph O'Brien.

The two candidates for the Shawsheen Vocational-Technical High School are incumbent Richard Griffin and challenger Kenneth Dorrance.

The Candidates Night will be moderated by Attorney Jay Gaffney and will consist of a five minute opening statement by each candidate; questions from PAC representatives from each school, and questions from the general audience. The session will conclude with a two minute statement from each candidate.

The general public is welcome and urged to attend and participate.

For further information contact Christine Butt (Chairman-Heath Brook PAC) at 851-3396.

SAVING THE ROOTS

When dentures are needed, any supporting bone in the gums can help make them fit more comfortably. This includes whatever tooth roots can be saved. They act just like pilings do in supporting a building.

Sometimes metal attachments are made for dentures and roots, so they connect together. Or a thimble-shaped metal cover is attached to the root, designed so that it fits into the denture for additional support. Saving the roots helps in other ways. Some people lose their "sense of feel" when their teeth are closed because they've lost all of their roots and surrounding nerve fibers. When some roots are retained, they keep this sense of touch when their teeth are in contact.

There is another advantage: it helps prevent further loss of bone by reducing wear on the jawbone itself. Because of the stronger support, the dentures not only fit better, they tend to last longer before they have to be refitted or replaced.

Just like whole teeth, however, the health of the roots must be maintained as long as possible. This makes regular checkups even more important for denture wearers whose roots have been saved.

Eastern Mass. Tournament

Wildcats bow in double overtime, 52-51

by Rick Cooke
Sports Editor

Wilmington High School's first tournament team since 1959 came right down to a double overtime before dropping a tough-as-nails 52-51 decision to the Middlesex League's Winchester Sachems (15-6) at Winchester High School Tuesday night.

Coach Jim Tildsley's Wildcats (14-7) ended a 24 year post-season drought with an Eastern Mass. Division II North appearance that came down to a pair of teams that missed numerous opportunities (including a batch of one on one free throw chances) to take charge late in the game.

Wilmington finished 5-12 at the line and missed five one on ones, including two late in the second overtime with the game on the line.

Winchester had its difficulties cashing in also, going 11-22 and missing six one on one opportunities.

The tone of the contest was set early when the lead exchanged hands 10 times and ended with Winchester clinging to a 13-12 first quarter lead.

WHS 6-6 senior center Mark Whitney, up against Winchester's 6-7 senior Joe DeAngelis, found himself in foul trouble most of the night, finishing with just six points and being held scoreless until the 3:07 mark of the second period. Shortly thereafter Whitney picked up his third foul of the first half.

A three point play by Bob Perry and a Joe Caizzi bucket enabled the Wildcats to pull into a 23-23 halftime tie.

The locals fell behind 36-31 (the largest deficit of the game) with under four minutes to play in the third quarter until some gritty defense from senior guards Jon Nolan and Ed Olshaw pushed WHS to a 39-39 standoff heading into the final stanza.

It was in that third period that senior forward Bob Ducharme and coach Tildsley garnered technical fouls over a disputed call on Ducharme. In the final quarter Whitney scored four of his six point total and Perry netted a bank shot to put Wilmington up 47-45 with 2:15 left in regulation.

A Winchester tip-in knotted the score at 47-47, Olshaw missed a drive with under a minute left, and the home squad ran down the clock to six seconds before calling a timeout to set up a final shot.

The Sachems blew a shot close to the bucket, fouling Whitney on the rebound. Unfortunately, Mark missed the front end of the one on one with three seconds left, and it was on to a scoreless first overtime that saw both teams searching for the best possible shot.

Wilmington had the best chance of the period when Olshaw streaked in for a layup off an inbounds steal by Ducharme, only to have Winchester's John Myers swat the ball cleanly away.

In that final OT, the Wildcats first lost Perry and then Whitney to fouls, but more importantly lost a chance to take control at the foulline with Winchester clinging to a 50-49 lead. Two missed one on ones and an 0-2 at the line meant that a possible six WHS points were not to be had at a key moment in the contest.

Winchester squeezed out some breathing room with a bucket to make it 52-49 before Caizzi broke free for the Wildcats' final score of the season with time running out.

Perry led the Cats with 13 points, Nolan was next with 12, followed by Ducharme (eight), Whitney (six), Olshaw (six) and Caizzi (six). DeAngelis paced Winchester with 17 and senior Steve MacDonald hoop 16 points. Winchester advances to play Middlesex League power Wakefield, a team they lost twice to in the regular season.

Free throws...The Wildcats closed out their regular season Friday night with an 84-59 rout of Tewksbury at Shawsheen Tech. Whitney had things his own way with 26 points and 13 rebounds. Also contributing were Nolan (13 points, seven assists), Steve Valletta (nine), Ducharme (eight), Olshaw (seven) and Perry (nine rebounds, eight assists, seven points).

Junior forward Dave Whitney paced the TMHS attack with 20 points, with senior tri-captain Tony Romano next at 16.

Earlier in the week senior tri-captain Jeff Vecchi sank a jumper late in the game to give the Redmen a 52-51 victory over Dracut. Tewksbury's other win this season was a 65-61 overtime triumph over the Middies January 14.

In another game played earlier in the week, the red-hot Billerica Indians rolled to a 69-50 victory at Wilmington led by the play of conference MVP Derek Dixon and sophomore center Mike Dagle with 17 points apiece. Whitney led WHS with 17 and Nolan netted 15 points.

The conference All-Star games for boys and girls are set for March 15 at the Ray Riddick Memorial Field House in Lowell. The girls' tilt will tap off at 6:30 followed by the boys' contest at 8 p.m.

Cracking the West boys squad are Whitney, Perry and Nolan along with Romano. Tildsley will coach the West team along with Billerica monument Ed James.

No tourney for TMHS

WHS girls jolt Tewksbury, 48-44

by Rick Cooke
Sports Editor

One look into the visiting stands at Shawsheen Tech Friday night might give you the idea that most Wilmington High School fans are more into verbally attacking the opponents' and a writer trying to do his job than in rooting home a team that had just knocked a two time defending champion out of a tourney berth.

While the nasties were getting their share of jollies high above courtside, the majority of Wilmington roundball fans were there to pay tribute to a team that finished on top of the Small School Division and at 17-3 overall with a neat 48-44 whipping of Tewksbury (9-6) in a game the Redmen had to win.

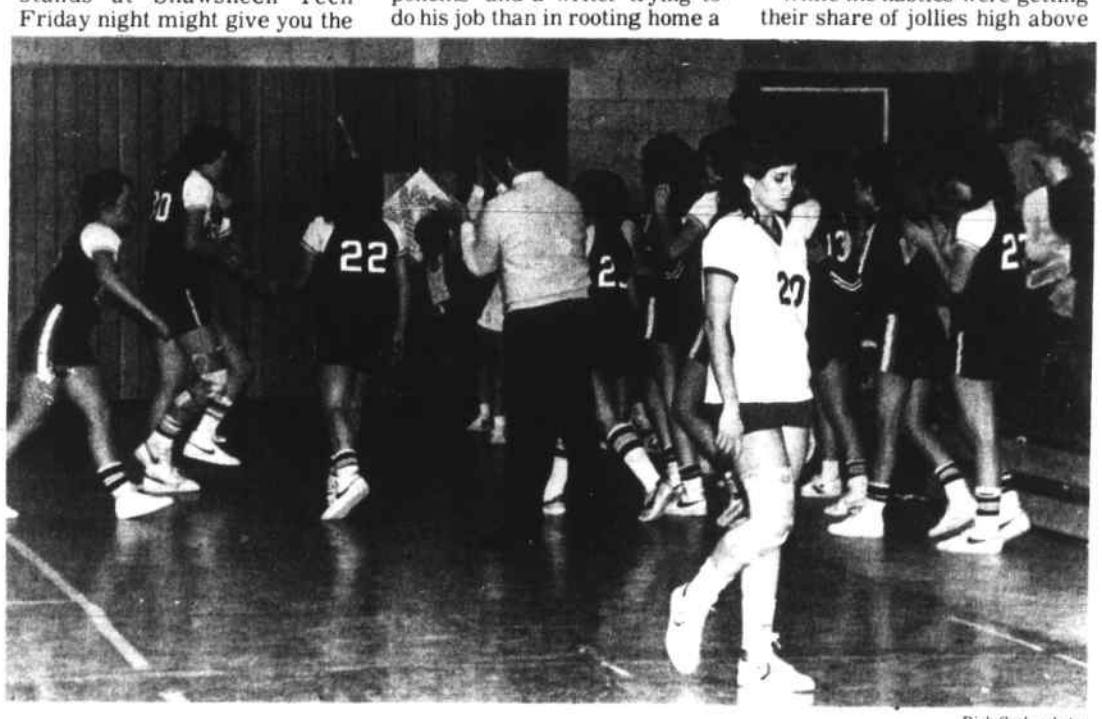

"Its just a real pleasure to win this game," noted Wilmington coach Doug Anderson afterwards. "Winning this game was very important to us, even though we had already clinched."

Anderson praised the play of senior tri-captain Karen Rowe, senior center Michelle DiGiralamo and Gail Lombard.

It was Rowe (20 points, 10 in the fourth quarter) who came up with a brilliant defensive fake in the midst of a Redmen last minute rush that resulted in a steal of an inbounds pass and a layup that sent the home club looking to next year.

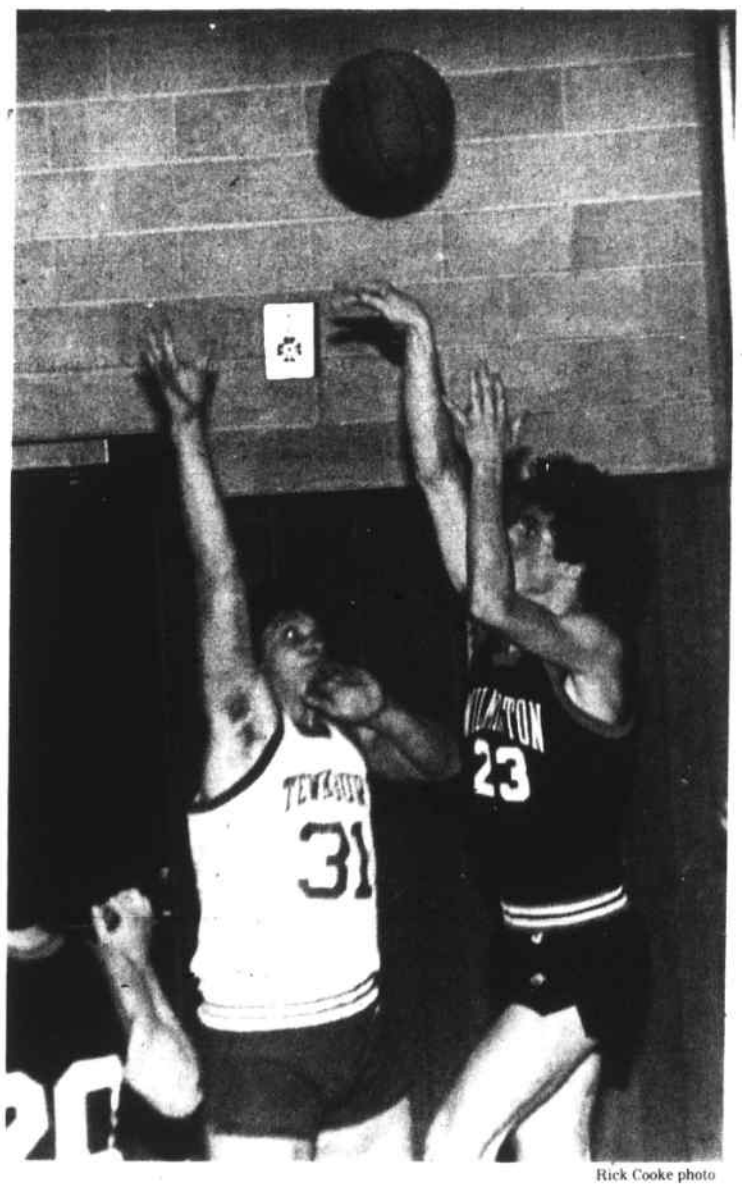

TMHS coach Barry Sheehan received solid efforts from senior center Leeann Stewart (10) and senior guard Sue Rheault. But Tewksbury played this game like it had played its' season- in streaks- and that just wasn't going to be enough to defeat a very good Wilmington team.

The Wildcats now gear for a home tourney tilt with Lincoln Sudbury (15-4) tonight (March 2) beginning at 7 p.m.

Wildcats, Redmen finish in dead heat

by Rick Cooke
Sports Editor

Maybe it's best this way. Both teams tied for first place in the Small School Division of the Merrimack Valley Hockey League, and both teams will be involved in tournament action beginning this week.

Last week Tewksbury and Wilmington scored victories that left the two teams in a dead heat for the Small School crown with 12-3-1 slates. Coach Joe Robillard's Redmen will be the first to face off in tourney action Wednesday night (March 2) when the team tangles with St. Mary's of Lynn at Merrimack College starting at 5:30.

Coach Bill Cullen's Wildcats will have a bit of a wait before playing the winner of the Northeast Regional-Westwood game at Lowell's Janas Rink Sunday afternoon starting at 2 p.m.

Last week's final regular season action was capped by the league All Star game won by the Large School Division, 5-2. Wilmington and Tewksbury players played roles for the Small School Division in the contest however, as Frank Newark scored both goals, with teammate Bob Curran notching a pair of assists. Another Wildcat, Dennis Moran, had the other assist. Tewksbury's Ed Walsh and Wilmington's Chuck Webster each played a period in goal for the Small School All-Stars.

Other local players selected to play in the game were Boo Tremlett, Mark Walsh, Joe Seluk and Tom Carpenito from Tewksbury and Ed Olson from Wilmington.

The league All-Stars were named last week, with Walsh and teammate Joe Seluk (23-14-37) named to the Second Team with Wildcat Frank Newark (8-14-22). Wilmington's Dennis Moran (22-22-44) was a Third Team selection.

Redmen 3 Central 2

Joe Seluk scored two goals for the Redmen and Armind Dias notched the other, as the Redmen tied for first and avenged an earlier 3-3 standoff with Central. Co-captains Mark and Ed Walsh had the other Tewksbury assists. Tewksbury resident Bob Fowler had an assist for Central Catholic.

Wildcats 12 Lawrence 3

Senior center Jim Smith powered home four goals and senior wing Dan Ward pocketed three to enable the Cats to cruise to this win and a first place tie. Bob Curran, Keith Cullivan, Dennis Moran, Steve Raso and Ray Durling had the other WHS lamplighters.

Curran and Moran had five assists apiece, with the other helpers going to Newark, Bob O'Connell and Fuller (two apiece), Jim Smith, Kevin Smith, Steve Caizzi and Cullivan.

Redmen 6 Lawrence 2

Mark Walsh scored his ninth and 10th goals of the season to spark the Redmen. Seluk, Glen Fougere and Dias had the Tewksbury assists.

Wildcats 0 Methuen 0

Senior WHS netminder Chuck Webster came up with 13 saves in the face of a super 28 stop effort by Methuen senior goalie John Bradley.

MVC League Track Meet

Luken, McNaughton cop championships

Tewksbury's Beverly Luken walked away with the title of girls top sprinter at the MVC League Meet last week, while Wilmington's Mary McNaughton was once again tops in the two mile. Thanks to the ruling of the MVC Athletic Directors, the Tewksbury girls were allowed to compete in the league meet, girls division. Tewksbury has no girls winter track team. "Our girls must run in boys meets or not at all, but thanks to the ruling of the athletic directors, they ran in the MVC League Meet," cited coach Dennis McGadden. "I hope we will have a girls winter track team next winter. I plan on asking our AD, Mickey Sullivan to enter Tewksbury in the MVC for the 1983-84 season.".

Beverly Luken ran the 50 yard dash in 6.4 and took first place in this event. Over in the girls shot put, Crystal Hasberry grabed fifth spot with a toss of 35'1", also her best at indoors this season. Crystal is planning to attend Southern Conn. College this coming fall.

Wilmington's McNaughton ran another strong race, topping her field in 11:10.9

In the Boys division, Scott Simas made it into the semifinals, but just missed getting into the finals of the 50 yard dash, even with a 5.94 effort for the day. Scott, a senior, is looking toward either ULowell or Wentworth Institute this fall.

Tony Massone took sixth spot in the shot put, 4'5," and was the only Division I team member to place in this event. Tony went 8-0 in dual meets, took sixth place in the Methuen Invitational and sixth place in the League Meet. He also did very well in the state meet at Harvard Feb. 18. Beverly Luken, Crystal Hasberry, Scott Simas and Massone all qualified and qualified for the State Meet for the Redmen.

The only other Redmen to compete in the League Meet was Donny Ellwood. A team tri-captain, he ran a 2:43.3 in the 1000, but failed to place in this event.

Top point getters for Tewksbury this season were: seniors Tony Massone, 47 points, Scott Simas 36 points, Bill Doherty 26¼, Donny Ellwood 21¾ and Frank Perdicaro 18. Juniors, David Lynch 21¼ and Brian McGrath 11¾. Sophomores, Keith Norton 7 and Carl Kresein 7½. Freshmen, Doug Noyes four and Steven Moore three points. The best performance by event went to Tony Massone, 48'9" shot put. Brian McGrath 8.2, high hurdles. Scott Simas 5.94, 50 yard dash. David Lynch 11:15, two mile. Scott Simas, 36.4-300. Keith Norton 1:35-600. Donny Ellwood 2:42.1, 1000. Bill Doherty 5:04-mile. Crystal Hasberry 35'1" girls shot put. Beverly Luken, 6;4 girls 50 yard dash and Theresa Forsyth 5.54 girls mile.

Wilmington skiers take home medals

Three Wilmington skiers won medals in the Northeast Regional Handicap Ski Championships last weekend at Mt. Sunapee, N.H.

Julie Stedman of 4 Glen Rd. won a first place medal in the slalom event in the Junior Women's Tri-Track Class with a combined time of 91.16 seconds for two runs. She also won a second place medal in the giant slalom, with a time of 42.76 seconds.

Doug Mackey and Larz 'Fred' Neilson, both of 130 Glen Rd., each won two third place medals in their respective classes. Mackey skied in the Adult Men's Class A Tri-Track, Neilson in the Adult Men's Class B Tri-Track. In the slalom, Mackey clocked 82.75 seconds combined for two runs, Neilson 103.58. Mackey's time in the giant slalom was 35.32 seconds, Neilson's 42.45.

In the 'Super G' course on Sunday, Mackey skied to a first place finish in the Adult Men's Tri-Trak with a time of 46.11 seconds. Neilson's time was 53.12 seconds. The 'Super G' was a downhill-style high-speed event, although the course would not qualify as a true downhill setting.

The Northeast Regional Handicap Ski Championships attracted 75 skiers from as far away as Ohio and Georgia. While many of the skiers are amputees, other handicaps include blindness, birth defects, polio and others.

The New England Handicapped Sportsmen's Association, which ran the races, operates a ski program every winter weekend at Mt. Sunapee, offering free skiing and instruction to handicapped persons.

Tewksbury Girls' Recreation Basketball

Kings win first, 40-22

Cavaliers top Senior Division

In the first Senior game of Tewksbury Girls' Recreation Basketball week number six, the Kings scored their first victory of the season with a 40-22 win over the Panthers. The Kings were paced by Michelle Pilato, Stephanie Vultaggio and Dianne Devita with 20, 10 and six points respectively. The Panthers top performers were Val Crowell, Stacy Ciccolo and Mary Menezes with eight, six and four points each.

In other Senior Division action, the Cavaliers held off the Nuggets fourth period surge to edge out a 46-39 win. The Cavaliers' attack was led by Jeannie Sullivan, Chris Stanton and Lori Zotto with 16, 11 and eight points. Frannie Nawassa and Meredith Lawrie also played strong games for the Cavaliers.

The Nuggets were led by Pam Brothers' 14 points, Val Flaherty's 10 and Jodi Sutherland's eight. The Nuggets got strong defensive efforts from Lynn Ploof and Donna Pinieri.

The Sonics slipped past the 76ers, 39-34. The Sonics were sparked by the play of Kristin Doherty, Karen Hennessy and Debbie Byrnes with 14, 12 and 10 points each. Lisa McLean and Maryellen Edwards contributed with fine defensive efforts. The 76ers were led by Renee Lombardi and Stephanie Rhodes with 15 and nine points respectively. Chris Kearns and Kellie Lightfoot played aggressive defense for the Sixers.

The Trojans nipped the Panthers, 28-21. The Trojans were spurred by the play of Missy Catalano and Patty Coviello with eight points each. The Trojans also received strong defensive efforts from Amy DiRocco, Linda Ricard and Jill Hallisey. The Panthers were led by Val Crowell, Sheila Foster with seven and four points respectively. Kim Dziadosz. Stacy and Felicia Ciccolo also played good defense for the Purple.

In the final Senior game of the sixth week, the Crusaders clipped the Kings, 47-22. The Crusaders' top performers were Michelle Blum 15 points, Susan Dec, 12, Julie Anzivino, seven and Kerry Beaulieu six. The Kings were led by Stephanie Vultaggio, who had 12 points. The Kings also got fine efforts from Kellie Scanlon and Melissa Chinchild.

The sixth week of the Junior Division action saw the Eagles come from behind in the fourth period to down the Blazers, 29-17. The Eagles' charge was led by Charlene Cestronis' 12 points and Maryellen Brooks' eight. Mary Williamson and Renee Bernard also had top games for the Eagles. The Blazers were led by Betsy Wrobel and Melanie Danner with eight and seven points. Annmarie and Jane Marcucci played strong games for the Blazers.

The Terriers knocked off the Pistons, 26-15. Pam Wood and Kerri Halleran led the way for the Terriers, knocking in 14 and eight points. The Terriers also gained defensive support from K. Stanton and Jean Lacroix. The Pistons were led by Lynn Murray's 12 points and Joanne McNamara's three.

In other Junior League action, the Warriors topped the Pacers, 18-14 in overtime. The Warriors came from behind in the fourth period to tie the game at 14-14 as regulation time ended. The Warriors then surged out front in the overtime period behind the play of Suzette Beaulieu and Lauren Pesce with eight and four points. Karen Nunziato, Stephanie Beaulieu and Karen Watson played good defense for the Warriors. The Pacers were led by Kim Kirk's 10 points. Karen Thornhill and Jody Cunningham played well defensively for the Pacers.

The Chiefs slipped past the Bucks, 8-5 to win their first game of the season. The Chiefs were led by Pam Mazzone's four points and Dianne Doherty's and Maureen Donovan's two. The Chiefs also received fine performances from Chris Lafave and Lisa Maniscalco. The Bucks were led by Meredith Goglia, Jeanette Lauziere and Kathy Kobelski with two, two and one point.

Youth Basketball Tournament

Wilmington tourney runnerup

Wilmington took the runnerup position in Tewksbury Youth Basketball Tournament, as Mike Lombard was selected Co-MVP along with Steve Harrington of Wakefield.

Wilmington lost in overtime to Wakefield 57-55. Lombard poured in 24 points and pulled down numerous rebounds. He also tied the game in regulation time with one second to go, but Wilmington fell short in the overtime period.

Pat Nally played well, but was in foul trouble for most of the game, a situation that hampered Wilmington's chances. Eric Penttinen chipped in with nine points and excellent hustle for the locals.

Tewksbury freshmen roll, 63-44

Tewksbury High School's freshmen rolled to their sixth victory of the season Friday with a 63-44 conquest of the Wilmington frosh. Guard Tim Boudreau led the way for the winners with 12 points, and he had help from center Rob Aylward (9), Joe Vecchi and Shawn Blades with eight points apiece.

Point guard Vecchi was the key to a fourth quarter surge with six points and six steals. Power forward Blades turned in a super job on the boards according to coach Leo DiRocco.

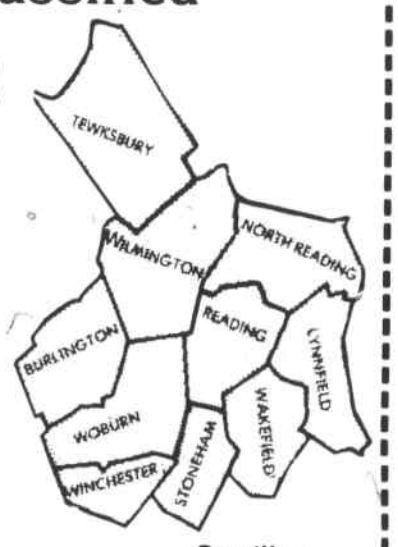

Coach Billy Simmons' frosh improved upon the effort turned in during the first loss to Tewksbury.

Wilmington police news

During the week ending March 1, Wilmington police officers responded to three accidents, two fires and 19 alarms, they made six arrests, quieted four disturbances. Three larcenies were reported, medical assistance was rendered on three occasons and two protective custody detentions were made.

Alert neighbors reported eight incidents of suspicious activity, one assault and battery was investigated, along with two break and entries. Two domestic problems were checked out, along with three trespassing, six traffic and one threat complaint.

Eleven building checks were requested, two stolen vehicles were recovered and 12 incidents of vandalism were investigated.

Arrests

Sgt. Palmer arrested a New Hampshire man on multiple motor vehicles charges after chasing him into Billerica around three o'clock Friday morning. Armond Marcotte Jr., 27, of Streeter Road, Dorchester, N.H., was charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol; driving after revocation of his license; speeding, failing to stop on signal. He was bailed for a Friday appearance in Woburn District Court.

Saturday morning around one, Officer Chris Neville arrested Christopher Ulm, 22, of Heath Street, Tewksbury. Ulm was stopped on Shawsheen Avenue and charged with operating a motor vehicle after suspension of his license and with being unregistered and uninsured.

Richard Surette, 20, of Washington Street, Reading, was arrested early Saturday morning by Officer Steve Parsons. The suspect was stopped on Route 129 near the Reading line and charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, speeding and failing to keep to the right.

Accident

Several youths were taken to the Regional Health Center for treatment following a two car accident on Burlington Avenue Monday. Drivers were Christopher Marsala of Burlington and James Ferreia of Tewksbury.

The Marsala vehicle apparently skidded on slippery pavement, struck the other car and then drove over a snowbank onto a driveway at 109 Burlington Ave. The injured included Marsala, William Magee, Robin Johnson and Kathy Moglitt, and Derek Sutton all of Burlington and Julie Ferreia of Tewksbury.

Officer Redding investigated the accident.

news from Wilmington schools

Art students to exhibit work

The opportunity for art students to exhibit their work is an important component of the Wilmington art curriculum. A recent effort to provide such an opportunity was made possible through the generosity of the members of the Wilmington Public Schools Teachers' Task Force who donated money to pay for three student memberships in the Newburyport Art Association. This organization has its own gallery with well attended monthly shows, and will give these talented students experience in preparing their work for public display and possible sale. The students selected for sponsorship are Michelle Baptiste, grade 12, Susan Lapper, grade 11 and Tim Barry, grade 11.

The designation of March as National Youth Art Month is an attempt to increase public awareness of the importance of supporting quality school art programs for all children. During March, the Wilmington Schools Art Department will commemorate this event by exhibiting student work both locally and in Boston. The Boston Exhibit of Art from grades kindergarten through 12, will be held at the John F. Kennedy Library from March 13 through April 1.

In Wilmington, student art work will be exhibited in all schools and a number of other locations. The Memorial Library will display High School and elementary ceremics, the Regional Health Center and school's administration building will provide space for the high school and intermediate students' drawings and paintings. The High School library and cafe 120 will show ceramics, photography and drawings throughout the month.

Project Enterprise pot luck supper

The gifted - talented department in Wilmington (Project Enterprise) held a potluck supper Wednesday evening, Feb. 16, in the cafe at the North Intermediate School. Parents of students enrolled in Project Enterprise and other interested school personnel enjoyed an evening of homemade casseroles and desserts and information dealing with gifted education.

The featured speaker was Ms. Roseli Weiss, director of Barnstable Gateway Program for gifted youngsters on Cape Cod. Ms. Weiss discussed using a recently made film, The Importance of Problem Solving in Gifted Education. Ms. Weiss' own district, Barnstable, won top honors in national comeptition in futuristic problem solving last year.

Following a question and answer period, Mr. Doug Anderson and Mr. Jerry Connelly, instructors in Project Enterprise, gave an update on the elementary and junior high programs in Wilmington, including future plans. At present, approximately 100 pupils in the Wilmington schools in grades four through eight are in the gifted - talented program.

Math League hosts competition

The West Intermediate School hosted the fourth divisional Math League competition Thursday, Feb. 10. Participants on the Wilmington team were:

Karen Denino, Ray Mercuri, Richard Smith, Andrea Quinn, Jeff St. Onge from the North and Missy Frey, Dale Kelley, Denise MacMullen, Joe McMenimen and Tony DeSantis from the West.

Five other schools were present: Parker Junior High and Coolidge Junior High from Reading; West Junior High and Doherty Junior High from Andover; and McCarthy Junior High from Chelmsford.

Wilmington placed fourth in the meet with high scorers Ray Mercuri, Richard Smith and Jeff St. Onge. Ray Mercuri was also presented with an award for achieving the highest total score in the meet. The advisors for the Math League are Miss Linda Peters and Mrs. Maryellen Carvello from the West and Mr. Steve Marino from the North.

"Coming of Age" musical at North

The students of the North Intermediate School are in their fifth week of rehearsals for the upcoming musical "Coming of Age." This musical drama, all about the ups and downs of being 13, will be presented April 7 and 8 at the North Intermediate School.

Musical Director, Deborah Stolar, is being assisted by art specialist Anne McDougall, guidance counselor Annette Curley, North Intermediate staff members and many parent volunteers.

The cast and crew are working very hard to make the production one of the high points of the 1982-83 school year.

Wilmington senior topics

Letters

If every senior citizen in this country would write latters protesting possible cuts in Social Security benefits, the great mass of mail pouring into the nation's Capitol would be sending a message loud and clear. The message is that older Americans are not sitting and nodding while the rug is being pulled from under their feet. They're wide awake and watching, determined to preserve the Social Security system for themselves and future generations.

The letters are available at the Wilmington Senior Drop-in Center.

Therapeutic social

The Council on Aging's March Therapeutic Social will be the good-time luncheon at Capt'n Chris Restaurant in Haverhill. It will be a delicious dinner, bingo games and prizes with a sing-along.

Buses will leave the Drop-in Center at 10:45 a.m. Thursday, March 24, arriving at the restaurant at 11:45. Dinner will be served shortly thereafter. The bus will return to Wilmington at approximately 3 p.m.

It is necessary to sign up at the Drop-in Center b eginning March 3. A $2.00 dsposit to help defray the cost of the social will be required. There will be a choice of roast beef, schrod or chicken, the two most popular meals will be selected.

Council meets Monday

Monday March 7, the Council on Aging's monthly meeting will be held at the Drop-in Center beginning at 1:30 p.m. Every senior can have an input into the decision making of this board. When the chairman opens the meeting to discussion and questions, any senior is urged to take part. The Council can be only as good as the seniors it serves.

Coming Attractions

By William Pacino

What a vacation!

In December one thinks of Christmas. In January one still thinks of Christmas. In February the cold winter winds stifle all thought. But in March a lot of time is spent thinking of vacations. We open this week's COMING ATTRACTIONS with something to consider.

This year enjoy an exhilerating sailing experience through the islands and bays of the mid-coast of Maine for a price more reasonable that you could possibly imagine. The Maine Windjammer Assoc. of Rockport, Maine has a fleet of thirteen authentic 19th century schooners that are the perfect way to spend your vacation time.

First, they come equipped with captain and crew. The captain charts the course. The itinerary is determined by the wind, tides and weather, so no two windjammer vacations are alike, but each follows the safest and surest course. Experienced and inexperienced sailors alike are welcome, in fact encouraged, to assist in hoisting the sails, navigating and taking the ship's wheel. Or if you prefer, you can simply lie back and relax.

In addition, you have a wide choice of vessels. There is a size ship for every group and a size for every pocketbook. For as little at $7,000, a group of twenty will pay only $350 per person for a six-day sail with three hearty meals a day. Imagine sailing the picturesque Coast of Maine, while the scrumptious aroma of freshly baked breads and pies and roasted beef fill the air. The Maine Windjammers are renowned for the fine cooking by their ships' cooks, and a highlight each week is an authentic Down East Lobster Bake.

The individual who contacts the Maine Windjammer Association and arranges the trip, taking responsibility for booking the charter, is offered a complimentary fare by many of the windjammers. In many cases, discounts are offered to groups and often times charter prices are negotiable, particularly in May, June and September.

For more information, write the Maine Windjammer Association, Box 317P, Rockport, Maine 04856 or call (217) 236-4967.

Dolls and Miniatures

The Ninth New England Doll, Miniature and Doll House Show and Sale will be presented Sunday, March 20th from 10 AM to 5 PM at the Danversport Yacht Club, 161 Elliott St., Danvers.

Millions of Americans have been caught up in collecting dolls and miniatures. In fact, doll houses and miniatures is the fastest-growing hobby in the United States, having edged out stamp collecting, and is now second only to coin collecting. Over 12 million Americans are engaged in crafting and collecting miniatures, according to the Hobby Industry Association of America.

The event will feature new and antique dolls, miniatures, doll houses and accessories of virtually every description. Exhibitors will be on hand to answer questions and offer helpful hints with demonstrations for thos planning to make items in miniature.

Further show information may be obtained by phoning 532-0606 or by writing Paul Exhibitions, 4 Longstreet Rd., Peabody 01960. Directions to reach Danversport Yacht Club: take Route 128 North to Exit 22-E to Route 62.

Metro Wind

Melrose area residents will be treated to an evening of fine musical entertainment when the Metropolitan Wind Symphony comes to Melrose's Memorial Hall on Saturday, March 5th. The 8 PM concert is presented by the Melrose Symphony Orchestra, which will share the proceeds from the performance.

Metropolitan Wind Symphony is a 55-piece semiprofessional wind ensemble that performs throughout the greater Boston Area.

Tickets for the performance are available from Chandelier Books, 11 West Foster Street in Melrose, and at Memorial Hall, on Main St., the night of the concert. For more information, call 665-8787 or 522-2849.

Jazz Festival

The Boston Globe Jazz Festival will take place March 18th to March 27th, at various concert halls in Boston. For a complete schedule of events, write to the Boston Globe Jazz Festival, The Boston Globe, Boston, Mass. 02107. Tickets are available at most ticket agencies, all Ticketron outlets, Concertcharge (426-8181) and at performance hall box offices: Symphony Hall, Berklee Performance Center, the Opera House.

Wenham Historical Association

"It's Raining Cats and Dogs" is the current exhibit at the Wenham Museum. This exhibit is a whimsical display of stuffed cats and dogs in fanciful settings. In addition, collectors have loaned china, metal, pottery, glass, and wooden felines and canines, paintings, pictures,

Huck Finn banned in Concord

When Huckleberry Finn was first published, Concord, Mass. was one of the communities to ban it. Still a controversial book, it continues to be challenged elsewhere. However, when Keith Stavely and Lani Gerson were preparing the Watertown exhibit, they couldn't find a good clean hardbound copy for display. When they called around to neighboring libraries, the only suitable edition was found, no less, at the nearby Concord Library!

U.S. history's little known facts

FM TALK: More little-known facts in American history:

A few statistics to mull over while considering the government's recent report that the January inflation rate was 0.2 percent: in 1929, the year of the big stockmarket crash, only 2.3 percent of American families had an income of $10,000 or more; 8 percent survived on $5,000; a whopping 71 percent had incomes below $2,500; 60 percent lived on less than $2,000; and 21 percent were in the less than $1,000 income bracket. According to the Brookings Institute, which compiled these figures, the poverty level in 1929 was $2,000. That means more than two-thirds of the country was living at or below the poverty level!

The aforementioned statistics prompted automaker Henry Ford to remark, "These are good times, but only a few know it."

Ironically, in October of 1929, just one month before the stockmarket crash, an article entitled

At Health Center

'Save Your Back'

Lower back pain rivals the common cold as the leading cause of absenteeism from work, yet it is difficult to diagnose, frustrating to treat and results in more lost work time and industrial compensation claims than any other injury or disease.

Many people suffer from low back discomfort from overexertion, stresses of daily living, poor posture, lack of exercise, previous pregnancy or excess weight.

Anyone who lifts, bends, twists or reaches has the potential to suffer from back injuries. This includes not only construction and factory workers, but office personnel and homemakers as well.

To help people prevent back injuries, the Regional Health Center in Wilmington is offering a three-hour "Save Your Back" workshop combining film, lecture, demonstration and practice exercises.

The program will be held on Thursday, March 3 from 1 to 4 p.m. at the Regional Health Center.

For registration information, please call in advance of the program 657-3910, ext. 567. Registration is limited to 15 participants and there is a $15 charge per person.

Each participant will have the opportunity to analyze his or her duties and suggestions will be made for improvements to reduce the risk of back injury.

One billion dollars are spent in the U.S. per year on lower back problems, many of which could be avoided through learning proper body mechanics.

In Waltham

Secretaries to meet

The Route 128 Chapter of Professional Secretaries International will meet on Tuesday, March 8, 1983, at the Holiday Inn, Totten Pond Road, Waltham. Dinner will be served at 6:00 p.m., followed by the program and business meeting. Required dinner reservations may be made by calling Phyllis Bernazani, CPS, at 666-5450 X111.

The speaker will be Virginia Haydu, technical communications specialist at Mitre Corporation in Bedford, whose topic will be "Styling Business Letters and English Language."

Previous to her position at Mitre, Ms. Haydu taught English in high schools for seventeen years. She has also taught social studies, geography and record keeping in high schools.

Ms. Haydu was graduated from New Mexico State, having majored in Instrumental Music and minored in Social Studies, Education and English.

For further information, please call Dorothy Crowell at 933-6048 (Woburn).

At Northshore

'A Touch of Spring'

"A Touch of Spring" comes during the month of March at Northshore Shopping Center, with the entire Mall decorated with butterflies, flower displays and the presentation of the 5th Annual Bridal Fair.

The decorations, by a well-known New York display company, are large white handcrafted picture frames, both horizontal and vertical, suspended from ceilings throughout the Mall and containing woven baskets of pastel silk spring flowers and dried natural greens. Mobiles, hung in arcades, are a mass of orange, gold and yellow silk poppies with mounds of dried ferns in all shades of green.

The Bridal Fair starts Thursday, March 3 and continues through Saturday, March 5. Over 32 exhibitor booths throughout the Mall will offer everything that is of interest to brides, grooms and their families to plan a perfect wedding. Visitors should be certain to stop at each booth to register for the many prizes to be given away during the three-day Fair. Participating companies include: A Private Collection of Topsfield; A Touch of Elegane of Peabody; Barber Brothers Florist of Northshore; Beef & Oyster House of Salem; Brenner's Party Supplies of Saugus; Bridal Boutique of Salem; Cakeland of Lynn; Carriages by RSRA of Revere; Don LaPointe's Video Magic of Salem, N.H. COMING ATTRACTIONS hooked rugs, books, and cat-related collectibles.

Visitors will see famous dogs such as Rin Tin Tin, Lassie, Asta, Snoopy, Benji and the Hush Puppy dog, as well as Felix the Cat, Sylvester, Kliban cats, the Cat in the Hat, Garfield and the Shy Little Kitten. There will be old friends from years past, such as Steiff and straw-stuffed plush toys, and many one-of-a-kind originals. Fantasy settings include a parade of doll carriages bearing cats and dogs, a tea party, and a shiny red fire hydrant.

A photo contest will be held throughout the exhibit. If you have a picture of your favorite cat or dog and would like to share it, bring it to the Museum for display.

The hours of the Wenham Museum, located at 132 Main St. in Wenham, are Monday-Friday, 1-4 PM, Sunday, 2-5 PM. For further information, call the Musuem office at 468-2377.

The Wenham Museum will also play host to an "Antiques Appraisal Day" on Saturday, March 5th. Several experts from the New York office of Phillips International, Fine Arts auctioneers and appraisers, will examine and verbally appraise articles brought in by the public. A fee of $5 per item, or $12.50 for three items, is payable at the door.

Appraisal Day is open to Museum members and the public from 11 AM to 4 PM.

Star with Shakespeare

Have you always wanted to be a Shakespearean actor or actress?

There's a rare opportunity to perform with professional actors in the upcoming Shakespearean production, "Hamlet", at the North Shore Music Theatre, Dunham Rd., Beverly. All roles are currently open.

Photos and resumes are being accepted for this major professional production, which will begin rehearsals on April 20th. Performances will be at 10 AM Monday through Friday for two weeks, May 2 to 14, plus two matinees on Thursdays, May 5 and 12; one Saturday matinee, May 7 at 2:30 PM and one evening performance at 7:30 PM on May 14.

Actors and actresses interested may submit photos and resumes to : Director, North Shore Music Theatre, Box 62, Beverly, Mass. 01915.

From sailing with the wind in Maine, to sailing with the Bard in Beverly, from music without electricity to "it's raining cats and dogs", COMING ATTRACTIONS has something for everyone. If you know of an event of interest to all, write, care of this local newspaper, and tell us all about it. Our effort to get the message across will not be "miniature".

ROVING

"Everybody Ought To Be Rich" appeared in Ladies Home Journal. The article was written by the vice-chairman of General Motors.

The most unpopular movie to premiere in 1929 was "Chasing Rainbows," which opened right after the stockmarket crash. The reason for its derisive acceptance? Its theme song was entitled "Happy Days Are Here Again"! The song did, however, become the theme song of the democratic party.

Millionaire Bernard E. Smith was one of the lucky investors to make a fortune during the stock-market recovery period in the early thirties. His method of making money was odd, to say the least. His rule of thumb was to sell his stocks whenever President Hoover made an optimistic statement about the stockmarket's recovery. Each time Hoover issued a statement, the market declined, so perhaps Smith's method wasn't so bizarre after all.

Eleanor Roosevelt could have been the first "You've come a long way, baby" ad girl. Even though she detested smoking, she would make it a point to smoke at White House dinners in order to show that women were as equal as men.

In the meantime, another famous woman's name was banned from the Hearst newspaper chain. She was movie star Mae West.

Thanksgiving has traditionally been celebrated on the last Thursday of November, but in 1939, when businesses were experiencing their worst year since the Big Crash, President Roosevelt ordered that the holiday be celebrated one week earlier so that businessmen would have a longer Christmas season.

Wendell Wilkie used the clever slogan "Roosevelt for ex-President" during his bid for the presidency in 1940. Unfortunately for Wilkie the slogan wasn't clever enough.

As a student at Stanford University Hoover became disenchanted with the snobbery connected with fraternities, and started his own group, called the Barbarians.

One of televisions best remembered bloopers occurred when NBC's Harry Von Zell introduced Hoover as "The President of the United States, Hoobert Hoover."

Hoover made strange demands of his White House servants. One was not to be seen by him or Mrs. Hoover. Whenever Hoover or the first lady appeared, the servants were required to hide in the nearest closet.

"Conscience: the inner voice which warns us that someone may be looking." — H.L. Mencken.

Northshore

Fashion Shows are scheduled for Thursday and Friday evenings at 7:30 p.m. and on Saturday at 3 p.m. The exclusive showing of bridal gowns, including bridesmaids, maid-of-honor flower girl and mother-of-the-bride fashions will be shown by The Bridal Boutique of Salem, with all men's formal wear outfits offered by Gingiss Formalwear and Miltons, both of Northshore. Spring trousseau outfits from Northshore stores for both men and women will also be shown. The three shows will feature 1983 bridal fashions for all seasons. Visitors to Northshore will enter a whole new world of spring, while brides-to-be and grooms and their families will find themall has planned the perfect time and place for the arranging for that "special day". All events are free to the public.

FACTS & FIGURES

Months before the official closing date, entries for the richest of all amateur bowling events are running better than two to one over last year. One good reason—a guaranteed first-place prize of $250,000.

It's the Lucky Strikes Again American Dream Classic amateur bowlers tournament, July 31 through August 6, 1983. If the tournament gets 4,096 entries, say officials, the guaranteed first-place cash prize will increase to one million dollars. Tournament organizers are in the process of arranging regional sweepers around the country which feature first-place prizes of $1,000 entry fees into the Dream Classic. One hundred of these sweepers will be sponsored by The American Tobacco Company in conjunction with its introduction of its new low tar filter Lucky Strike cigarettes.

CPR CLASSES

Choate-Symmes Health Services, Inc., will provide a Basic Rescue CPR (cardiopulmonary resuscitation) course at the Symmes Hospital Division in Arlington on Monday evenings, March 14, 21, and 28, from 7 to 10.

The importance of providing emergency treatment quickly when needed cannot be stressed too strongly. With the continued possibility of severe weather in this season, accidents on thin ice, heart attacks (maybe due to shoveling snow), automobile accidents, and other tragedies such as drug overdoses and electrocution, a basic knowledge of this life saving technique can save a life.

CPR is the mechanism which individuals can learn basic life support techniques that can keep victims alive until a rescue squad or physician is available. This course will teach the method of relieving an obstructed airway, along with lectures, films, slides demonstration of techniques and practice by the students in rescue breathing and heart compressions life-like manikins. This course is designed and approved by the American Heart Association and taught by American Heart Association certified instructors.

Additionally, two four-hour recertification classes will be held on Monday, March 7 and Wednesday, March 30, each during the hours of 6:30 to 10:30 p.m.

Pre-registration is necessary for any of these classes. Fee for Basic Rescue is $12.50, and for recertification, $5. Further information may be obtained by contacting the Community Relations Office at 646-1500, Ext. 1443.

JOBS

Arthur J. Provencher, president of Benson's Animal Park, announced today the opening of 400 jobs for the summer season starting Saturday, April 2, 1983. Job openings include grounds keeper, food stand personnel, cooks, bartenders, waiters, waitresses, cashiers, ride operators, and gift sales people. Positions are for ages 16 and over. Special mothers hours are available. There will be positions open for the Benson's Parade for children 10 and up.

Applications are now being accepted for all positions. Apply in person at Benson's, 27 Kimball Hill Road, Hudson, New Hampshire.

WOMEN NORTH

"Reading Between the Lines: Strategies for Asking the Right Questions" will be the program for the dinner meeting of Women North to be held March 16 at 6:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn, Woburn. Ms. Diane Canino, Human Resources Consultant, will lead a session on heightened perceptual awareness. Included will be analyzing styles of formng personal impressions, recognizing barriers to receiving important messages, identifying feedback techniques to access hidden information, and ways to make active data gathering a habit in our daily lives.

A cash bar will be available at 5:45. Reservations are required.

Women North is a business and professional women's organization which meets monthly. Prospective members should contact Adrienne Dorfman, 31 Stonebridge Road, Wayland, Ma. 01778 or call 653-7867.

FLOWER SHOW

Experience a touch of Spring now through April 3, at Habitat's annual spring flower show. An array of Spring flowers are on display daily from 9 to 5.

Habitat is located at 10 Juniper Road, Belmont, just off Rte. 2. Call for more information at 489-3850.

ON DISPLAY

The paintings of Claire Markham, well-known Melrose artist, will be on display at American Mutual Insurance Co., Wakefield through March 4 from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Mrs. Markham, daughter of Dr. J.W. Burke, formerly of Wakefield, is a graduate of Boston University's School of Practical Arts and Letters where she majored in interior design. She studied with the late Taddeus Klodnicki, and with Betty Lou Schlemm of Rockport.

She has won many awards and her paintings have been reproduced three times in American Mutual's annual calendar. In the 1983 edition of the calendar, her watercolor "The Paper Palace" is featured on the cover.

Claire Markham has exhibited in various local banks and has taught community center art classes at the House of Correction in Salem.

She is Co-Director, with Carol Carney, of The Art Center and Gallery located in Melrose. This is a private working studio for the visual arts and available to artists wishing to teach workshops.

Mrs. Markham was instrumental in organizing Melrose's first art show — encouraging the local artists to work together for support and encouragement.

The public is welcome to view the exhibit.

NACEL

Nacel Cultural Exchanges announces the 1983 program dates through the area coordinator, Virginia Adams of 279 Pleasant St., Reading, Ma. 01867. This non-profit organization arranges homestay-hosting programs for four week periods between France and the United States. 1983 will also include a program with Spain.

Nacel's emphasis is on experiencing a new culture through the daily life of a family. Sharing, caring, and growing are part of the experience.

Mrs. Adams, her own family having hosted during the past 10 years, shared some comments from other host families that summarize the program. "Frederic was a delight to have in our family. We learned a great deal from him and, hopefully, he did, also from us. He brought us much happiness and good-will."

"Veronique acted throughout her stay the way you would hope one of your children would act if they were visiting a host family in another country. We enjoyed her and the experience very much."

This year Mrs. Adams will be placing 60 youngsters from France (age 14-18) with American families from July 14 — Aug. 11. Flyers and applications are now available.

Nacel offers a reciprocal program wherein Americans go to France for either the month of July or August. These youngsters are also hosted by families in France. There are limited openings available for both months. Interested teens should contact Mrs. Adams for more details. Applicants will be accepted on a waiting list basis.

Students should have at least two years of language study. The experience is not a travel program, but rather an opportunity to get to know and understand a country through its peoples.

The Spanish program will be for the month of July. American chaperones accompany each group.

SPEECH & HEARING

Language impaired children will be the focus of a lecture sponsored by the Speech, Language and Hearing Department of Lawrence General Hospital at 3:15 p.m. Tuesday, March 8 at the hospital.

Annabelle Scavuzzo, speech language pathologist from Childrens Hospital Medical Center, Boston will discuss "A Curriculum Approach for Language Impaired Children" with focus on the McGinnis Association Method. She will present lessons and teacher designed materials.

There is a registration fee of $7. To register or for further information please call 685-8544.

BRAHMS CYCLE

Ronald Kmiec will perform the 4th and final recital in his 4-recital Cycle of the complete published solo piano music of Johannes Brahms at the Concord Academy Performing Arts Center, Main St., Concord, Mass. on March 5th at 7 P.M.

The World Premiere series of presentations of the Cycle commemorating Brahms' 150th birthday will conclude in the U.S. at Carnegie Recital Hall in N.Y.C. on April 8, 10, 15, 17, also marking Mr. Kmiec's N.Y. debut. The Concord series has featured the debut of the Falcone Concert Grand piano, the exciting new American piano manufactured by East Coast Piano & Organ of Woburn, Mass.

The program for the final recital will consist of the Variations, Op. 21; Fantasias, Op. 116; Gluck Gavotte arrangement; 4 Ballades, Op. 10; Sonata No. 3 in F Minor. The first 3 recitals in Concord took place on Jan. 8, 22 and 29 (all 4 recitals comprise a total of 444 pages of music, lasting approximately 7 house).

Tickets are available at the door, and are $6.00 ($5.00 for present and former pupils of Mr. Kmiec and their families). Further information at 369-6130.

MARDI GRAS

Masked Carnival Ball at Hammond Castle Museum in Gloucester on Friday, March 4th, 8 P.M. to Midnight. Caribbean music by Sa Sa Ay, Exotic Parade by the Bananarettes, Coronation, Conga, Snake Dance, Limbo Contest, and more. $12.50 per person (tax deductible). No one under 20 admitted. Call 283-7673 for reservations.

Homemade soup-high in nutrition

Time was when every dinner had to include a soup — before the main dish of the meal. Today soup often stars as the main dish especially in the winter when dried beans and peas, winter vegetables and sometimes small pieces of meat or sausage are used.

There is a certain sense of security, love and satisfaction to smell and hear a pot of soup bubbling on the range or woodstove. When soup is homemade it can be high in nutrition and taste, and low in salt and fat, according to Nancy C. Stutzman, Extension Home Economist, Middlesex County Extension Service. While homemade soup can take a while to prepare, it doesn't take much watching — it will keep well in the refrigerator for several days, and perhaps be even better tasting. Most soups will freeze very well also and become a quick meal on a busy night so it's a good idea to make a double batch.

Soups often begin with a stock — beef, chicken or vegetable — flavored with onions and herbs. To the stock base one can add cooked dried beans, vegetables in season (winter squash, pumpkin, cabbage, potatoes, turnips), and additional herbs. Sometimes milk is added for creaminess and nutritional value.

Garnishes can make the soup extra special and add to the visual delight. Stutzman suggests grated cheese, lemon slices, a dollop of yogurt, chopped hard-cooked eggs, and homemade croutons. She says that popcorn can even add an interesting texture. Think of color contrast as well as texture, and serve with pride.

Now's the time to get out the soup kettle and establish your own soup kitchen!

Diet and nutrition at NEMH

Americans spend over ten billion dollars annually on various weight reduction methods. Books, diets formulas, and pills continually flood the market for self-administered weight-loss programs. Some are potentially useful. Most are inadequate, and sometimes lethal.

Join the Health professionals at New England Memorial Hospital for a panel discussion on how to determine which popular weight reduction methods are most effective. Discussion will include evaluations of various popular diets, commercial programs, and drugs used in weight loss. Tips for recognizing a good weight reduction program as well as points to beware of will be included as part of the evening.

This event is sponsored by the Nutrition Services Department of New England Memorial Hospital as part of National Nutrition Month. It will be held Thursday, March 10 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Education Building Classroom Registration is $2, payable at the door.

For more information, call Nutrition Services at New England Memorial Hospital, 665-1740, ext. 408.

ART STUDY

There is still time to make art study part of your early spring enjoyment. Take a course in calligraphy, design, painting or drawing at the Montserrat School of Visual Art.

Registration for evening classes in the March 7 through April 29 session is currently being held at the school on Dunham Road adjacent to the North Shore Music Theatre.

All courses are offered on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings on the following schedule. Tuesday evenings: Printmaking with Ethan Berry, Life Drawing with George Gabin, Graphic Design with Kenton Sharp, Figure Sculpture with James Sawyer and Design with Roger Martin.

Wednesday evenings: Basic Painting with Rose Olson, Watercolor with Oliver Balf, Introduction to Calligraphy with Whitney Brand Lamy and Woodcut with Ethan Berry. Thursday evenings: Basic Drawing with Rose Olson, Photography with Kenton Sharp and Advanced Calligraphy with Whitney Brand Lamy.

A Tuesday afternoon Studio for High School Students is also offered with Rose Olson. Instruction in drawing and painting assists students in preparing a portfolio, usually for art school or college admission.

Registration may be done by mail or in person prior to the first classes on March 8, 9 and 10, depending on the courses selected. All classes are held from 7 to 9:30 P.M. at the school. Further information is available by calling the Monserrat School of Visual Art at 922-8222.

VOLUNTEER PARENT AIDES SOUGHT

Being a parent is very stressful, especially for new single or young parents who may feel lonely or isolated. Parents frustrated by daily living conditions can feel better about themselves and their abilities when there is someone to share the stresses as well as the good times.

Volunteer parent aides are needed to provide support, nurturing, warmth and acceptance on a weekly basis to parents in the community. The aide serves as a friend, advocate and role model to the parent.

Through this meaningful, trusting relationship, the client can build her self-esteem and thereby become a more effective parent.

Aides will be matched with a client and are required to visit them; and attend a group supervision meeting on a weekly basis. Before meeting the client, the aide will be offered training sessions.

The Parent Aide Program Task Force, sponsored by the Department of Social Service, in cooperation with the Mystic Valley Council for Children, the Regional Health Center in Wilmington and Winchester Hospital, requires a one-year commitment from Parent Aides.

As a link to a less isolated and more social world, the parent aides may choose to take the client out each week — shopping, to the library, to lunch or to participate in a recreational activity. Funds have been made available to reimburse the aides for these stress-reducing activities.

An orientation program will be held in March for interested parent aides. For more information, please contact Monique Doelling at the Department of Social Services in Arlington at 641-1780.

A commitment, a willingness to share and listen enables a parent aide to help a client with difficulties become a more effective parent.

PURIM

The Children's Museum celebrates to the tune of foot-stomping music and the rattle of noisy graggers during the annual Purim Festival on Sunday, March 6th from 10 a.m. — 5 p.m.

This Jewish holiday began centuries ago when beautiful Queen Esther outwitted wicked Haman and saved her people from destruction. It was decreed that "these days should be remembered and kept throughout every generation" (Esther 9:23). Everyone is invited to join this year's festivities.

The Purim story comes to life at 10:30 a.m. with Rima Miller's puppets. In the background visitors can catch strains of violin music as minstrel Marvin Weinberger strolls through the Museum. Or they can join the music-making and sing along with Laura Berkson, also at 10:30 a.m. Don't miss Shirim playing Klezmer music, a lively shtetl jazz, at 1:15 p.m. And at 2:30 p.m. storytellers Penina Adleman, Ellen Block and Laura Pershin share Hand-Me Down Tales from Jewish tradition.

Between performances visitors can try a variety of crafts. Disguise yourself behind a hand-made mask as Haman or Queen Esther, make your own gragger to rattle whenever you hear evil Haman's name, or design a scroll like the Scroll of Esther and write your own Purim story.

Calligraphy is harder than it looks! Learn how to write your name in Hebrew at 10 a.m. and then watch Sharon Savitsky and Shel Bassel demonstrate the art at 11 p.m. and 2 p.m.

Enjoy another art form at 3 p.m. when Taima Shana (Sheri Arth) demonstrates Middle Eastern dancing. Then you give it a try! At 12 p.m. or 3:30 p.m. join hands and circle 'round for traditional Israeli Folk Dancing.

If all this activity works up an appetite, lend a hand baking Hamantaschen, a fruit filled pastry shaped like Haman's three-cornered hat. Then be sure and sample one!

Throughout the day there will be a book and resources display in the Resource Center. Videotapes and a slide presentation about the story and celebration of Purim will also be shown.

Special entertainers, do-it-yourself crafts, and participatory demonstrations are all part of the Purim celebration Sunday, March 6th from 10 a.m. — 5 p.m. The Children's Museum and the Jewish Community Center, in cooperation with the Bureau of Jewish Education, are pleased to offer this day of enriching entertainment in keeping with a centuries-old tradition. Join us!

Museum admission is $4 for adults, $3 for children (2-15) and senior citizens. There is no additional charge for special events.

The Children's Museum is at Museum Wharf, 300 Congress Street, on Boston's waterfront. For travel information, call the What's Up Line at (617) 426-8855. For group information and reservations call 426-6500, ext. 221, 9 a.m. — 1 p.m.

GIFTED CHILDREN

A summer enrichment program for gifted and academically talented children, "Starting Early at Salem State" (SEA), has been announced for a three week period, July 5-22.

The popular summer program for children currently enrolled in grades four through eight will be limited in enrollment and will feature individualized, experiential, and "hands on" learning experiences.

According to program coordinator Jerrold Rosen, SEA is designed to provide educational opportunities not normally available in the typical elementary-middle school setting. Early registration details may be obtained from Salem State College, Division of Graduate and Continuing Education, 745-0556, ext. 2315.

The SEA program is expected to offer about 45 courses from 8:30 a.m. to 12:40 p.m. daily. These may include learning about the ocean, mathematics, meterology, geology, biology, history, art, zoology, chemistry, as well as short story writing, creative writing, newspaper work, "Legends, Mummies, and Phraoah," energy, woodcarving, typing, computers, electronics, media (TV), "Space Invaders?", small engine repair, marionettes, photography, puppetry, magic, cartooning, quilting, songwriting, and other choices.

Other programs for children and youth will include "The College Connection" enrichment program for children 5-13 with stimulating and enjoyment classes 9 a.m. — noon, July 5-30; "SUMS — Some Useful Math Skills" for students in grades K-5, to reinforce math skills in a relaxed, enjoyable environment, 9 a.m. — noon, July 5-22; "Workshops in Mathematics" for students in grades six through eight with additional courses in Algebra I and II and in Geometry (courses starting week of July 5 or 11 running through weeks of August 8 or 15).

'My One and Only', Next big theatrical smash?

Review By RICK PEARL

Some may complain about the many cliches that still need to be worked out, or the loose strands of plot that are still sticking out; some may even criticize the syrupy (if not downright sappy) script. None of that will affect my impressions of "My One and Only," which appeared at the Colonial Theatre in Boston prior to a run on Broadway; given a brushup, and a little tightening of the script, the new Gerschwin musical that stars Tommy Tune and Twiggy looks to be the next big theatrical smash.

TWIGGY stars as a ravishing swimmer who makes a big splash on Tommy Tune in "My One and Only", the new Gerschwin musical.

The plot, as a whole, is reasonably harmless. It follows the same basic format – boy meets girl, boy loses girl, boy wins girl back – with relatively few exceptions. However, it is exactly the musical's innocence – or naivete – that inspires us to enjoy it. This play is a throwback to a simpler time, when audiences WERE attracted to plays like this. With some fantastic choreography by Thommie Walsh and Mr. Tune, not to mention a traditionally bright musical score by George and Ira Gerschwin, this production is a total joy.

"My One And Only" is the story of a barnstorming pilot, Billy Buck Chandler, who falls in love with a courageous swimmer, Edythe Herbert. Tune plays the former, Twiggy the latter. The two fly into the sunset together and crash on a deserted island, where they are content to live in connubial bliss for the rest of their lives. Their reverie is interrupted, however, by the swimmer's manager, Prince Nicolai (Bruce McGill), who wants her back not only for her promotional value, but because she's tugged at his heartstrings, too.

You can pretty much guess what happens next, so to avoid giving away what little is left of the plot, let's just say that you won't be in a state of shock by the ending. A "Deathtrap" this isn't. It isn't meant to be.

It's meant to be a fun night at the theater, which is exactly what it is. The script is humorous, the props add to the light-hearted mood, and the dancing, especially that of Tune and Charles "Honi" Coles, is the highlight of the evening.

When Tune combines with Twiggy in dance, it is also a special moment. Both have professed to enjoy working with one another, and it is readily apparent in "My One and Only."

Twiggy, who some may remember only as the stick figure model that was all the rage in the late 1960s, has quite a bit more going for her than a slim figure. Her dancing skills are quite impressive, and she also displays a very nice singing voice.

Several minor roles are handled extremely well, especially by Roscoe Lee Browne (as Bishop Wellington St. Kings) and Denny Dillon (Lotus, Billy Buck's feisty female mechanic).

"My One and Only," with a little work, can only get better, because the basic premise is a good one. Hopefully, by the time it makes its Broadway debut, everything will be in working order. The theater needs more productions like this one.

TOMMY TUNE is a barnstorming pilot brought to earth by the beauty of Twiggy in "My One and Only", the new Gerschwin musical.

'Godspell' -as energetic and entertaining as the original

By RICK PEARL

It is a slightly different, modernized version of the original production, but the "Godspell" that has been playing recently at the Charles Playhouse in Boston is every bit as entertaining and inspiring as the original.

The 1970's rock musical that based its story upon The Gospel According to St. Matthew is alive and well nowadays, playing to enthusiastic audiences that are eager to relive the excitement surrounding the play's early days, or hoping to learn what all the hoopla was about.

The current edition, presented by Charlie Kirkwood and New Genesis Productions, has an energetic cast, some parochial punch lines and new lyrics, and the same old success.

Some who had seen "Godspell" back in the beginning might be slightly offended by the new interpretation as it is more comedic and thus might appear to detract from the original message. But they should keep in mind the initial criticism of the production, back when John-Michael Tebelak and Stephen Schwartz combined at Carnegie Mellon University, and how the musical soon soared above it all.

The eight players in the local version of Godspell are dynamic and caring, and their enthusiasm sweeps over the audience.

To single any one of them out would be a disservice to the group as a whole, for they are at their best as a moving, interchangeable bunch of parts that needs no one great performance to make or break the production.

Therefore, let it suffice to say that the cast of Robin Joy Allen, David Thomas Hampson, Debra Hauptman, Rich Hebert, B.J. Jefferson, Jessica Lichtner, Lani Marrella, Frank Stellato, James Weatherstone, and Harvery Zuckerman are wonderful.

The musical score, with "Day By Day" at its core, remains unchanged, for the most part, although with a few of the songs, Schwartz felt compelled to "update" the lyrics. This takes nothing away from the production, however, and, in fact, will simply make it that much easier for the new audiences to comprehend and accept.

The Boston production is directed by Stephen DeAngelis, produced by Kirkwood, and has Patrick Vaccariello as the musical director.

"Godspell" at the Charles IS a bit different, make no mistake about it. But its wonderful story remains the same. Only a slight retooling of the storytelling technique has changed. "Godspell" remains a musical to be enjoyed by everyone.

Retired Men's Club observe Boy Scouts of America Week

The Feb. 9 program of Retired Men's Club was a 'Court of Recognition' of members who are, or ever have been, in Boy Scouts of America. Al Webber opened the program by recognizing holders of various awards, who stood as their category was announced.

When awards from Silver Buffalo thru any position or rank down to Cub, had been mentioned, about two-thirds of 197 present were standing. With hands raised in the Scout-sign, the Oath and Law was recited in unison.

First speaker was Chester Card, a charter-scout in Everett, MA. As related by Chet: On April 10, 1910, a group of men and 30 boys met in First Congregational Church, Everett Square, to organize a troop, which had been a company of Boy's Brigade. Colonel of the Brigade, a Mr. Gardner was an old friend of Sir Robert Stephenson Baden-Powell (scouting's founder), a fact which might account for this group being honored as Troop #1 in U.S.A. (for verification, see copies of Boston Globe in State House Archives or Boston Public Library).

The first camp was a pine grove of Burbank Farm, off Park St. where the Ipswich River flows thru North Reading. Five from the patrol were chosen to work at a Scout Camp at Weymouth Back River, across from Fore River Shipyard. They stayed until school started in Sept. servicing troops from throughout MA. They didn't see much activity, as most of the day was spent in the mess-tent.

The five were: Foote; Hall; Hanna; Wenner and Card. Foote became an ensign in WWI; after Navy service, Hanna was an electrician at the State House; Joe Wehner flew a SPAD and was shot down in flames over Germany (a Memorial Park in North Everett and the VFW Post are named for him); Card was in the USS Rhode Island Band, and after leaving the service, kept annoying people with his trumpet.

Barney Dickman began his scout memories thusly: "This is not the right setting to talk about scouting. Imagine you're at camp; the sun has set; scouts in their tents; we're sitting on a log, cup of coffee in hand, staring at a dying campfire, as a fellow scouter says, 'Barney, at times like this, I almost forget I have a family'. Why he had not been a scout was explained. It was 1917, the Ohio National Guard was 'Over There' and the Cincinnati Home Guard had replaced striking firemen, with a resultant rash of false alarms. Boy Scouts were asked to guard all alarm boxes around the clock on a shift basis. When he tried to join, father ruled it out, saying, "You're not joining an organization that keeps boys on the streets all night". Early in his career, Barney was able to get a boy appointed to Camp Staff at Parker Mtn. who had been rejected by the late Walt Weidman, Exec. of Quannapowitt Council. The boy's guardian thanked Barney for keeping him out of reform school. "That's one boy saved, maybe I'd better stick around", was Barney's reaction. He expressed pride in being invited to participate at the founding of the Order of the Arrow (honorary campers) and the dream of volunteer scouters — Silver Beaver Award.

Les York, Membership Chmn, Powder-keg District, gave a presentation replete with amazing statistics; a well rounded knowledge of Scouting, it's ideals, teachings, plans, types of programs and participation in it's several components. He asked Scouter/Meteorologist Bob Lautzenheiser of Reading to stand. Bob is a Merit Badge Counselor for weather. His help and approval permitted York's son to obtain the Weather Merit Badge. The son is a Lt. US Navy and a weatherman. Les is proud of 48 years of service to youth in several fields. He emphasized the 12th point of Scout Law — Reverent.

Minuteman Council Commissioner Joe Callahan joined February 1931 in Brookline. He admired his Scoutmaster, Tom Duncan, who achieved King Scout in Scotland and Eagle Rank in the USA. Very few have earned Scouting's highest award in more than one country. Joe learned of scouting's origin from Tom, who was there when it began. In 1935, when Lord Baden-Powell came to Symphony Hall, Duncan made sure that Joe was chosen as an usher.

Said Joe, "Many years later, it dawned on me that he was an elderly man, small in stature with a jaunty step and a twinkly eye". At the time tho' he was a giant in this scout's eyes, with an 'aura of greatness' about him.

Callahan recounted other special events: 1937, first National Jamboree, Wash., D.C.; 1964, as Scoutmaster, taking a troop to National Jamboree, Valley Forge; 1967 found him at World Jamboree, Idaho. Spending time each summer at Parker Mountain, it's so nice when boys you've served two or three years back greet you with, "Hi! Mr. Callahan, so nice to see you up here again". You get much more out of scouting, than you ever put in.

Eagle Scout (Father of two Eagles) Bob Sproul has been in the program 64 years, 41 of them as a Professional Scouter. His memoirs would fill volumes. He told how Lord Baden-Powell with the aid of Lord MacLaren began Wood Badge training. A two-week course of rigorous and demanding outdoor living was held on Brownsea Island, England. For a long time, Bob was one of only 18 Directors of Wood Badge Training in the U.S. He proudly wears the MacLaren neckerchief, leather thong with beads of Wood Badge.

After telling of a surprise honor bestowed at an Eagle Scout Assembly in St. Louis, he said, "Come with me, if you will, to a dark Colorado hillside where 55,000 scouts await the signal 'to put the light of scouting where it belongs' and 55,000 small lighted candles;" the singing of 'A Scouting we will go', was a sight and sound I shall never forget."

PRECISION

PRECISION MECHANICAL INSPECTORS

Come share the stability and steady growth that are so much a part of the M/A-COM Components companies. As a rapidly expanding division of M/A-COM, we are a world leader in the design and manufacture of semiconductor and microwave components. And here's your chance to join in our success.

We are looking for experienced individuals to assume the responsibilities of a precision mechanical incoming inspector. Within our clean, modern, air-conditioned Mechanical Inspection Department, you'll perform incoming or final inspection of complex mechanical parts. Because of the diversity of M/A-COM's products, you'll have the opportunity to work on a wide variety of products — from military to commercial, through both high and low tolerances. Applicants must be capable of using standard inspection tools and doing their own set-ups. A minimum of 5 years of experience as a precision mechanical inspector is a must.

M/A-COM employees enjoy a comfortable modern working environment, very competitive salaries with frequent salary reviews, plus an exceptional lineup of benefits which include medical, dental, life insurance, profit sharing, tuition reimbursement, and a retirement plan.

If you are interested in being part of our success, call the Employment Department at 272-3000, Ext. 1076.

ATTENTION: Parents of Teenagers

I am Mrs. Barbara M. Hutchins. I would like you to meet my daughter, Nancy. Although her teenage years are behind her, she had a serious acne problem. Her skin was always broken out with blemishes, blackheads and white heads. Within the last six years I have literally spent hundreds of dollars on Dermatologists and prescriptions with very little if any improvement.

After reading an impressive advertisement for a professional European facial by James Oncidette, a licensed Esthetician, I made Nancy's first appointment. After only one facial with James, there was considerable improvement in her complexion. By her fourth facial and only two months later, a very few percent of Nancy's skin problems were alleviated.

By looking at my daughter now, we are very pleased she is with her new complexion, and by assertion the confidence that she has regained in herself.

I wished I had known about James and his expertise in Esthetics before I had spent so much time and money trying other skin treatments.

Parents — Please do your teenage son or daughter a favor! At the first sign of blemishes or blackheads, call James for an appointment. You and your teenager will be amazed at the results!"
